ties with notorious criminal Pichchi Hamman, are trying to stage a comeback to supremacy here. Hamman was killed on August 6 in a 'crossfire' during an operation of elite anti-crime Rapid Action Battalion (Rab).

Under the scheme, a platform of businessmen titled 'Karwan Bazar Federal Bebosayi Samity' was formed on September 9, with Jubo Dal Assistant Religious Affairs Secretary Nabi Solaiman as its president and Khan Mohammad Sabahuddin, a businessman, as general secretary.

Businessmen alleged Nabi was awarded the influential post as BNP high-ups including the local lawmaker took an interest and had an active hand in formation of the samity's 101-member executive committee, which many businessmen did not accept.

Powerful quakes hit Indonesia: 17 dead

AFP, Jakarta

A succession of powerful earthquakes rocked eastern Indonesia yesterday, killing at least 17 people, injuring more than 100 others and destroying hundreds of homes, police said.

The quake, which was felt in the nearby country of East Timor, struck Alor island, 1,000 km east of the resort island of Bali, and left hospitals struggling to cope with the wounded.

Local meteorologists put the magnitude of the quake, which struck at 4:26 am Jakarta time (2126 GMT Thursday) at 6.0 on the Richter scale, while the Observatory of Earth Sciences in Strasbourg recorded the tremor at 7.3.

Similar-sized quakes can cause massive destruction and high casuality figures but in impoverished and rural areas such as Alor, low-levels of urbanisation mean tolls are lower.

As of 0830 GMT, a total of 16 people across the island had been killed by the quake which was followed by three powerful aftershocks, Alor deputy police chief Hasan Kiko told AFP.

He said the tremors damaged more than 640 buildings, many of them homes, across the island.

"So far, we have received reports of 17 people killed in the earthquake from five police precincts. People here are still wary because we can still feel more aftershocks," he said.

Earlier, another policeman said that at least 100 people were hospitalised with serious and minor injuries and many people had left their dwellings to huddle in open fields.

Though many a subscriber of Bangladesh Telegraph and Telephone Board (BTTB) in the capital has remained disconnected for several weeks, and some even for months, the state-owned operator just sits on its hands.

The BTTB has taken no initiative to reconnect the dead phones or to repair the damaged network despite repeated complaints, subscribers alleged.

More than 150 BTTB telephone connections on Green Road and in Dhanmandi have been out of order for over one and a half months now, without any attempt by the operator to correct the situation, they claimed.

A large number of telephones in Mohammadia Housing Society area have also been dead for over a week.
