

Poor aman output frustrates farmers in Nilphamari

Paddy harvesting begins

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Nilphamari

Aman paddy harvesting started here in a limited scale about a week back. But local farmers are frustrated due to its poor yield.

Because of moisture in field, full swing harvesting will be late by at least another week.

According to sources in district agriculture department, aman production is likely to fall short of target this year due to natural calamity and massive pest attack on paddy field. BR-11 and Sarna varieties of high yielding paddy are the worst sufferers, according to DAE Deputy Director (DD) AKM Sakawat Hossain. He further told that farmers cultivated these varieties ignoring their advice. He revealed that pests attacked less than one per cent of paddy fields. He termed heavy rainfall and storms in October as a big blow in aman cultivation. He admitted that due to adverse situation, yield of paddy would fall to 2.30 metric tons instead of the target of 2.52 metric tons per hectare of land.

Farmers have apprehended that one third of the total yield would not be achieved this year.

Paddy on several hundreds hectares of land have been badly affected due to attack of diseases like Sheath Blight, Sheath Rot, prolonged drought in August, besides heavy rainfalls in October and pest attack. Application of additional pesticides caused sharp rise in its production cost. Moreover, pesticides were either adulterated or of low standard. So, the pesticides did not come to any help to combat diseases. Attack of brown plant hopper pests on paddy fields just before paddy harvesting has caused abunder.

Nazrul Islam Modal, Plant Protection Specialist of the Department of Agriculture Extension (DAE) told this correspondent that such insects are too tiny to be visible and develops in wet places. This year's weather was not favourable for aman farming, he said. Paddy plants died as the pests sucked paddy juice. The pests moved from one place to another quickly in group.

Abul Hossain, a farmer at Singdai village in Sadar upazila told this correspondent. Brown Plant Hoppers attacked paddy plants when rice was about to be formed. Cattle even did not eat straw of dried paddy plants, said Abul.

While visiting different villages like Ramnagar, Charai Khola, Itakhola in Sadar upazila, Gayabari, Balapara in Dimia upazila and Kasiram Belpukur in Syedpur upazila, this correspondent found standing aman on several hundreds hectares of land had been damaged completely.

According to farmers, one bigha (30 decimals) of land yielded 15 to 16 maunds of paddy last year while this year the same land is likely to yield only 10 to 11 maunds of paddy.

Boro farming faces setback in Satkhira

Artificial seed crisis created by unscrupulous dealers

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Satkhira

Boro farming is likely to be hampered in the current season due to acute seed crisis here.

Unscrupulous dealers have created an artificial seed crisis. But the authorities' indifference to tackle the situation has shattered the hopes and aspirations of local farmers.

Everyday several hundreds of farmers are seen thronging the seed sales centres of the Bangladesh Agriculture Development Corporation (BADC), but they are returning homes empty handed. Some dealers are allegedly realising excessive prices. Although the selling price of 10-kg packet of seed supplied by BADC is Tk 170, the dealers are selling it at between Tk 210 to 220.

According to sources in the Department of Agriculture Extension (DAE), it has taken up a programme to cultivate boro on about 49,200 hectares of land while the demand of seed is 1,212 metric tons.

Sources at Satkhira BADC Seed Sales Centre told this correspondent, about 51 metric tonnes of seeds will be sold through sales centres at Satkhira Sadar and Kaliganj upazilas while 146 metric tonnes of seeds will be sold through 34 dealers in the district.

Farmer told this correspondent that surging waters from the Kobadak and incessant rainfalls have flooded a vast tract of land in Kalaroa, Tala, Sadar and Assasuni upazilas damaging standing aman crops. Now they are facing acute seed crisis at the advent of boro season.

Farmers alleged that a section of dealers are selling seeds at between Tk 210 to 250. At places dealers are allegedly cheating farmers by selling adulterated seeds.

On contact, BADC Assistant Director Liakat Hossain said, only 40 metric tonnes of seeds out of local demand of 100 metric tonnes have been sanctioned for Satkhira.

On contact, a reliable source in the office of the Deputy Director of the DAE said, dealers are getting commission at 13 per cent. So, they are supposed to sell seeds at the fixed price. 'If anyone is found to sell seeds at an exorbitant rate, they will be punished', the sources said.
