President Iajuddin Ahmed speaks at the 8th convocation of North South University (NSU) in the city yesterday.

Universities can enrol only 10pc admission seekers

President tells 8th convocation of NSU

UNB, Dhaka

President Iajuddin Ahmed yesterday regretted that all the public and private universities in the country could accommodate only 10 percent of the admission seekers while the rest are left out and deprived of higher education.

"This huge number of boys and girls, who fail to get admission, need to be helped and the universities should address these problems," said the president at the 8th convocation of North South University (NSU) in the city.

He noted that quality education is an essence and asset of a nation and universities. Particularly, private universities are established in the country "under the patronage of the government in order to build up trained and knowledgeable manpower".

Addressing the young scholars of the university, Iajuddin said, "While your talent, training and good fortune clearly set you apart from the rest of the population, you mustn't forget where your roots lie."

He observed that the private universities have so far played an effective role in stopping brain drain. Besides, outflow of educational expenses has decreased substantially.

stantially.

The opportunities so far created for the students by the private universities should be widened in future, he added.

"We should also create such an atmosphere of confidence so that the guardians, employers and the policymakers should in no way undermine the degrees of the private universities," the president said.

There is only one condition to ensure this confidence and certainty ensuring quality education, he added.

Split in JCD sparks tension on RU campus

STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Rajshahi

Jatiyatabadi Chhatra Dal at Rajshahi University split into two groups over the issue of October 30 violence yesterday creating panic on the campus.

A series of scuffles between the followers of the unit's JCD President Motiar Rahman and those of general secretary Aslam Reza took place behind the administrative building after the president held a protest procession in the morning.

Finally, both groups declared each other unwanted on the campus in two separate press conferences, immediately called in the afternoon at Abu's canteen.

Aslam blamed Moti for polluting educational environment of the campus by taking out a protest procession by outsiders, expelled JCD cadres, without the knowledge of its own activists while Moti defended himself by calling Aslam responsible for the October 30 violence.

Tension sparked off after the infighting surfaced and the two groups were seen getting prepared for clashes, sources said.

Meanwhile, Progotishil Chhatra Jote demonstrated wearing black masks for six-point demands, including removal of Vice Chancellor Prof Faisalul Islam Faruki.

Bangladesh Chhatra Dal initiated a mass signature programme to support its similar demand.
