JU student injured in bus accident

JU CORRESPONDENT

A student of Jahangirnagar University (JU) was injured seriously when a bus conductor pushed him off the bus in front of the campus yesterday.

Akash, a first year student of Mathematics, was injured when the conductor of a Dhamrai-bound bus pushed him down from the bus at the first gate of the university at around 9:00am.

He suffered injuries in different parts of his body.

The fellow students, standing around the spot, took Akash to university medical centre where he received three stitches on forehead.

"The conductor pushed me off the bus when I tried to get on it on my way to Nabinagar," said Akash.

In protest against the incident, around one hundred students took to the highway and damaged three Dhaka-bound buses of D-link disrupting the traffic for 20 minutes.

"The owner of the bus has pledged to bear the medical expenses of the injured student and assured of taking action against the person responsible," said Mafizul Sattar Titu, acting proctor of the university.
