The Baily Star

Saturday 21-5-2005

People's Right to Know

HOTO: ANISUR RAHMAN

Relatives and boatmen brave a turbulent Jamuna yesterday to take the bodies of two victims of Tuesday's Aricha launch disaster to their homes in Pabna. Seventeen more bodies were recovered from the river yesterday pushing the death toll to 50.

Govt plans to buy 2 more rescue ships STAFF CORRESPONDENT

With ferry disasters becoming a common phenomenon that claim hundreds of lives every year, the government plans to buy two highpowered rescue ships, as age-old Rustam and Hamza can no longer lift the sunken vessels.

The new salvage ships with latest technologies and automated systems will be able to lift 400 tonnes each and detect sunken vessels, sources said.

The cost of the two ships will be no less than Tk 143 crore, and the government is willing to buy those through a long-term easy loan, they added

They said the government is : corresponding with the South Korean government and also trying SEE PAGE 15 COL 8

No rescue, only floating bodies recovered

Death toll in Jamuna tragedy rises to 50; over 130 still missing; 10 drown in Bhola mishap STAFF CORRESPONDENT

STAR REPORT

Seventeen more bodies were recovered yesterday from the Jamuna river downstream Arichaghat in Manikganj, raising the death toll to 50 in Tuesday's launch tragedy as salvage operation for the vessel was further delayed by strong currents and snapping of the rescue wire again

Police recovered the decomposed bodies floating in the river and continued their search boarding country boats as more than 130 passengers of the launch -- MV

Raipura-- were still missing and eared drowned

In Thursday's trawler sinking in Bhola, 10 people drowned and at least 20 went missing as the vessel with around 100 people on board capsized in the Meghna river near Char Maheshkhali in stormy weather. About 70 of them swam ashore, our correspondent reports from Barisal

It was the third river vessel tragedy in the country only in five days with the second occurring in Patuakhali on Sunday

Bangladesh Inland Water Transport Authority's (BIWTA) rescue team yesterday continued its operation in the Jamuna with the decades-old salvage vessel M V Rustam without success. Twentytwo divers taking part in the operation could not reach the sunken launch due to heavy currents in the river. BIWTA officials said "The rescue wire snapped for the second time during a storm at noon. Our efforts to hook the sunken launch to lift it failed repeatedly as SEE PAGE 15 COL 6

Explaining how the duty free access to the EU and Canada

attracts investors, he said, "A

Rupsha bridge opens to traffic today STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Khulna

Prime Minister (PM) Khaleda Zia naugurates today the Khanjahan Ali meeting a long felt need for provid-ing a permanent road link with Khulna-Mongla highway and convenient communications between the country's northwest and southwest reaions

With the opening of the 1.36km long bridge constructed at a cost of Tk 726.15 crore with financial assistance of the government of Japan operations in the country's second largest port city Mongla is likely to get a boost along with development of communications in the region.

Following inauguration of the bridge at 2:45pm, Khaleda Zia will address over 2,000 invitees there, official sources said.

The inaugural function of the bridge will also be addressed by Shuzen Tanigawa, senio vice-minister of Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Japan, Communications SEE PAGE 15 COL 8

Another bout

of AL hartal

withdraw support

today

ORDEALS OF 2 MINOR DOMESTIC HELPS Too feeble to speak out, too young to go home

SHAHEEN MOLLAH and PORIMOL PALMA

Two girl children, driven by extreme poverty to work as domestic helps, ended up last week in Dhaka Medical College and Hospital (DMCH) with bruises all over the body.

Pakhi Noor, 9, and Meena, 8, were lucky to escape the brutal tortures and abuses by their employers but now, at the end of that ordeal they face a new crisis: Taken from home at a very tender age, neither remembers where her family lives.

With nowhere to go, and with horrendous wounds still to be nursed, their stories illustrate the typical fate of poor girls forced into bondage at an early age in appallingly abusive conditions PAKHI IN FETTERS

The ordeal of Pakhi reached a tipping point after a simple mishap: She lost a set of keys. As punishment for the mistake, her employer, Mahmuda Binte Atique alias Ratna, beat her and then turned her out of the Moddhya Basabo house in Sabujbag.

"You can enter my house only after you find the keys," Ratna warned the 9-year-old kid before dumping her outside the gate, Pakhi recalled recently lying in a bed at DMCH.

'No...no...l won't go...l won't go...to Ratna's house Following complaints from Worst of all, the child cannot neighbours, the police rescued Pakhi from in front of the gate and took her to DMCH. They then remember the name of her home district and has no way to contact arrested and filed a case against Ratna under the Women and Children Repression Prevention Act. Ratna was sent to jail on May

Doctors at DMCH said Pakhi's

News analysis

Extra-judicial killings call HSC exams postponed; for unbiased probe 11-party, Oikya Mancha

SHAMIM ASHRAF

Rights bodies and legal experts have said an executive probe into extra-judicial killings in so-called crossfire, shootouts and encounters is not sufficient and demanded an independent inquiry involving the judiciary and professional bodies.

Many have dismissed as mere eyewash an executive inquiry into the actions of the police and Rapid Action Battalion (Rab) that have left 408 people killed since June last vear. They maintain such an enquiry will not be neutral since the law enforcers are carrying out the acts with the go-ahead from the govern-

" 'A man cannot be the judge of his own cause' is a universal maxim for dispensing justice. If only executive probe is done on the crossfire, it will be against this maxim," Justice Golam Rabbani, a retired judge of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, told The Daily Star on May 12.

There must be a judicial inquiry into the incidents to satisfy the victims' relatives and the public at large, he said

"Especially in our country, people are suspicious about the sincerity of the executive authority. This is a sad fact," Justice Rabbani added.

body is a demonstration of abuse The numerous black spots on her hands, legs and back, they said, clearly indicate serious torture. "Her skin diseases also show that she lived in a very shabby condition and without any care at her frightened of her employer, she screams in panic whenever anyone approaches her bed, saying

SEE PAGE 15 COL 1

employer's house," they added. Bitterer are the lingering mental scars that do not show. Pakhi is so

According to the heads of the police and Rab, they did not find any unjustified use of firearms by their own men in the incidents that left 'criminals' killed to this day.

In the wake of strong criticism from home and abroad for flouting the constitution and the international human rights norms by allowing killings in so-called crossfire, the cabinet committee on law and order said on May 11 that an executive nvestigation would be conducted into every such incident.

SEE PAGE 15 COL 4

No clue yet to Surge in investments may double earning of EPZs

Citizenship law on the stocks

STAFE CORRESPONDENT

be responsible for enforcing the law, But diaspora status will not be awarded to the citizens of

Ignoring requests from different quarters, the main opposition

Awami League (AL) is all set to enforce another dawn-to-dusk countrywide hartal today, in protest against the killing of its city unit leader Khorshed Alam Bachchu. forcing the Higher Secondary Certificate (HSC) examinations postponed Today's shutdown comes just after two days' respite since Wednesday's hartal called for the same cause resulting in the post SEE PAGE 15 COL 1

If no justice,

hartal is a

Khorshed

killers of

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The family of slain Awami League (AL) leader Khorshed Alam Bachchu loses confidence in police probe, as the investigators have yet to find any clue to the murderers even after four days into the killing.

"We have left it all to almighty Allah," Shahin Akhtar Jharna, Khorshed's sister-in-law, yesterday US dollars. said referring to probe into the slaying.

The investigators, however, expressed confidence that they will be able to solve the murder case that was filed by Khorshed's wife Jahan Akhtar. "We are hopeful that we will soon solve the case," said Investigation Officer (IO) Fazlul Kabir of Detective Branch of police yesterday.

Advocate Khorshed Alam, the SEE PAGE 15 COL 5

SHARIER KHAN

employ 64,000 people.

in the pipeline, Bepza officials say. Investment in export processing Presently there are 106 garment, zones (EPZs) has shot up signifitextile, accessories and knitting cantly in the last two years -- mainly in anticipation of the post-MFA context -- creating the prospect of doubling in the next fiscal the EPZ's existing annual earning of 1.5 billion export units will come in to operation The Bangladesh Export within the next fiscal year. Considering the history of the EPZs, Processing Zone Authority (Bepza), which currently has 215 export units this number is very significant. in six operating EPZs, said that as applications of investors are waiting

"There are two main reasons many as 96 units received approval why there is a sudden surge of in these zones between July 2003 investors' interest," Bepza and March 2005. These will invest Chairman Hossain notes, "Number US 375.75 million dollars and one is our labour cost is still one of the lowest in the world. Number two Of these newly approved units, 43 is Bangladesh now gets duty free are dedicated to garments and its access to the European Union and backward linkage units, and 17 to Canada."

must: Hasina

Sheikh Hasina yesterday said hartal becomes unavoidable as the government continues "killing" her party members and victims are denied justice.

"Why will we not call hartal? If we don't get justice, hartal is a must,' the Awami League (AL) chief told a function organised to distribute prizes among the winners of a children's drawing competition on the premises of the Bangabandhu Museum, marking Bangabandhu's SEE PAGE 15 COL 2

A process is on to formulate the country's first full-fledged citizenship law, which might be introduced within the next three months.

The law aims at setting specific criteria that would qualify or disqualify one for citizenship as well as the reasons for which one might lose that. This would remedy the inadequacy of the present lone provisional citizenship act enacted in 1972 to resolve some immediate citizenship complications.

A draft bill styled Bangladesh Citizen Act framed by the law ministry, along with the recommendations of the Law Commission, has been sent to the home ministry, which will seeking its comments

On dual citizenship, it says a Bangladeshi citizen, who has acquired citizenship of any other country recognised by Bangladesh,

Bangladesh under this category.

will retain his or her citizenship of within the next three months.

citizenship or diaspora.

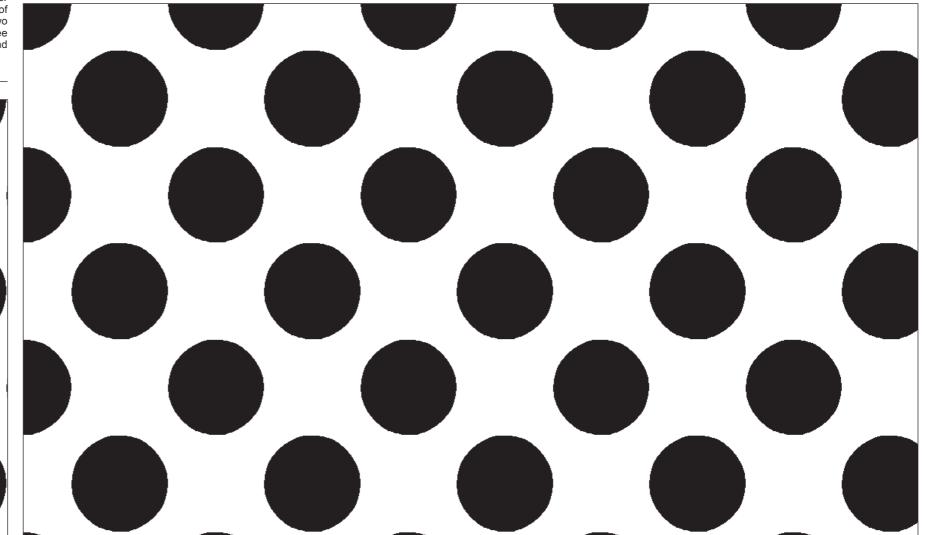

"We are now awaiting the com-Bangladesh by registration or ments of the home ministry. Then it'll naturalisation. be sent to the cabinet for its approval," Law Minister Barrister The government can register an Moudud Ahmed told The Daily Star.

applicant as a Bangladeshi citizen if either of his parents or a grandpar-He anticipates introducing the law ent of a parent was born anywhere in the undivided Indian The draft law lays out eight Subcontinent. But the applicant has categories of citizenship including to reside in Bangladesh for five by birth, by descent, by registration, by incorporation of territory and dual consecutive years and obtain a certificate of domicile right before applying for citizenship, the draft dictates It says a mature and able person can be registered as a citizen of Bangladesh by naturalisation if he is SEE PAGE 15 COL 6

Canadian factory is fully relocating units at the EPZs --most of them itself in Bangladesh in a few months investing 25 million dollars because controlled by South Korean and Bangladeshi investors. they used to pay a 19 percent duty Bepza Chairman Brig Gen (retd) for marketing their products in Canada. When they start production Zakir Hossain says that about 100 in Bangladesh and export the same to Canada, they will not have to pay any duty. Plus, their production cost will also go down." SEE PAGE 15 COL1

UNB, Dhaka