

Sun or rain, life goes on

THE scorching heat plays heavily on these animals as they go in search of whatever water left behind in pools to immerse their bodies baked in the sun, while rains come down to bring chaos to human and vehicle movement. Water logging causes discomfort to commuters and vehicles are stuck. Rickshaws fall unbalanced probably due to the open manholes covered by the flowing rainwater. Larger vehicles break down as engines filled with water refuse to move.
