News reports on army men's links a fiction

omenewspapers.
"Analysing false and fictitious newspaper reports on involvement of some former and incumbent army men in the August 17 heinous bomb attacks, it could be apprehended that an interested quarter is engaged in ill effort to create panic by publishing concocted news about militants' infiltration into the army and thereby to undermine the image of the army and the country," said an ISPR release. The newspaper reports said that police arrested retired lance corporal Harun-ur- Rashid following the confessional statement of bomb-carrier Obaidullah Suman. As a matter of fact, the release said, after investigation and interrogation at JIC it was ascertained that Obaidullah Suman did not know lance corporal Harun and he did not supply bombs to Harun. This proves that n is not an offender or a member of JMB. But some newspapers repeatedly published reports and pictures of Harun quoting Obaidullah Suman.

The military press wing observed that without getting the information confirmed by checking the facts and documents some newspapers identified arrested lance corporal Harun as a bomb expert and trainer of JMB. But investigations clearly proved that arrested lance corporal Harun had never been such a trainer in his service life and had no experience about it as well.

The army head quarters said newspapers mentioned honorary Capt Mohiuddin and former lance corporal Harun as officials retired from Bangladesh Ordnance Factory (BOF). But no officials with these names had ever been employed at BOE It said army soldier, lance corporal, noncommissioned and junior commis-sioned officers are not designated as army officers. They cannot be described asarmyofficials.

Quoting police authorities the release said that during the investigation, arrested lance corporal Harun has not made any statement whatsoever admitting to his having expertise in making bombs, working as a trainer or about involvement of any retired or in-service army member in the bomb attacks. The interrogating authorities have also ascertained that they have not also supplied any information to anybody regarding the interrogation. The release said some newspapers published a picture of a combat gear-like dress used at JMB training center in Bogra. Although this dress has similarity with the army's combat dress, it is not army combat dress. This dress is available in market and used by different private security agencies.

The investigation conducted by the army and information gleaned through police investigations "proved beyond doubt that arrested Harun was not involved in the bomb attacks". He has not made any statement implicating any retired or in-service army personnel in the bombings either. Therefore, the newspaper reports quoting his confessional statement are "fabricated and baseless", the ISPR order over the privatisation process of Rupali Bank The report mentioned that no representatives of the finance ministry, Privatisation Commission and Rupali Bankwere present in court when the stay order was declared and the hearing of the case scheduled for August 23 also could not be held as no representatives of the attorney general's (AG) office attended the hearing despite frequent reminders. In a rejoinder, the finance division said the finance ministry had no scope to be present in court when the stay order was declared by the High Court (HC) as the ministry was not aware of it. It said the finance division came to know about Commission from a news item in The Daily Star. After learning about the case, the AG office was requested to take steps to include the finance division as a respondent of the case. The HC later included the finance division as the sixth respon-

the writ petition against the Request for

Expression of Interest of the Privatisation

Moreover, the finance secretary on August 10 sent the chairman of the Privatisation Commission a demiofficial letter on the necessity of privatisation of Rupali Bank and the possible financial loss of the government ifitis not implemented.

The government then prayed to the Appellate Division of the HC to stay the moves to vacate the High Court's stay stay order, following which the Appellate Division on August 30 gave a two weeks' status quo and asked the government to file a regular leave petition. The finance secretary in a letter asked the law secretary to take steps in this

Later, the status quo period was extended and the date for hearing on the regular leave petition has been fixed on October 19.

The rejoinder said the additional secretary, joint secretary, deputy secretary, senior assistant secretary and other administrative officials concerned of the finance division are regularly pursuing the matter with the AG office.

i'buble send your voice

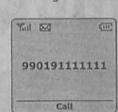

What is i'bubble?

banglalink launches for the first time in Bangladesh i'bubble (voice service). Through this service, banglalink customers can send a message as voice instead of text. banglalink subscribers will be able to record their own voice and send it to a single or multiple recipients. This will eliminate the typing problem and the language barrier of text-based SMS and replaces it with a fast and easy-to-use voice

How to send i'bubble?

• Dial 99<the mobile number where you want to send your voice>. Example: If you want to send a voice message to 0191111111, dial 990191111111.

> Titl 🖾 banglalink Menu

 After listening to the greeting messages you will be given the option of choosing the desired language: Bangla/English.

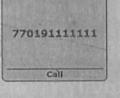

After language selection you will get 30 seconds to record your voice.

 After recording your voice, you can send it immediately or in a specific date and time. Voice message can be sent to any banglalink number as well as to other local mobile operators.

How to retrieve i'bubble?

If a customer did not answer the i'bubble he/she can always retrieve new & old i'bubbles by dialing 77<own mobile number>. Retrieval is possible for banglalink subscribers only.

Service Charge:

Service browsing costs Tk. 3/2min. inclusive of message (excl. of VAT)

· i'bubble can be sent to other operators. All responsibilities regarding i'bubble remain with DETEC (BD) Ltd.
