Over 100 injured, six police vehicles torched at Kansat as cops disperse mob blocking C'nawabganj-Sonamasjid Road

STAR REPORT

Seven people were killed and more than a hundred injured when police opened fire to disperse a mob in Kansat Bazar in Chapainawabganj yesterday, 19 days into a similar incident that left two people killed in the same area.

The firing took place when locals were demonstrating for the release of three leaders of Palli Bidyut Sangram Committee (PBSC), an organisation of local electricity subscribers, arrested in connection with January 4 violence in the area.

Of the dead, six were identified as Anwar, a rickshawpuller and son of Anij Uddin, Nasir, son of Ayej Uddin, Mannan, a day labourer and son of Mosahak, Garibullah, son of Nizam Uddin of Kansat, Chowdhury of Chatra Krishnachandrapur and Rashid.

Another unidentified juvenile injured in the incident died at Rajshahi Medical College and Hospital.

On January 4, two people were killed in police firing in the same upazila in a similar incident when the locals laid siege to the Kansat Palli Bidyut Samity demanding uninterrupted power supply and reduced meter charge.

On Sunday night, police arrested Golam Rabbani, Zahir Chowdhury and Manirul Islam Manna, leaders of PBSC, which is leading a movement on five-point demand including reduction of electricity meter charge and minimum charges.

In an immediate reaction, hundreds of agitating people yesterday morning blocked the roads and highways in the area demanding release of the three.

They laid wooden and concrete poles of Palli Bidyut Samity on Chapainawabganj-Sonamasjid Road blocking a 55-kilometre stretch from Pukuria to Bholahat.

Thousands of passengers suffered as several hundred vehicles were stranded on the road. The mob also set fire to more than a

MEGHNAGHAT-2 PROJECT

Unholy practices go on at cost of nat'l interest

SHARIER KHAN

The Power Development Board (PDB) is awarding the phase-2 Meghnaghat 450 megawatt power project to Belhara-Orion-Steg (BON) consortium through gross manipulation of the tender process and approval of the cabinet purchase committee, and undermining national interest, sources said.

Experts say although the Meghnaghat-2 power tariff is being shown at 2.78 cents per kilowatt hour (or kWh), in reality it will be around 5 to 6 cents per kWh because of very unusual concessions being given to the BON.

These concessions would be worth no less than $70 to 80 million.

Some of these concessions will monetarily deprive the PDB.

These along with other concessions alone will double the real tariff for this power project, experts pointed out.

While the phase-1 AES 450 MW Meghnaghat plant charges the PDB around $30 million annually, the minimum annual bill for the BON plant will be $36 million to $40 million, one expert added.

The PDB and the power ministry last month finalised the Power Purchase Agreement (PPA), Land Lease Agreement (LLA) and Implementation Agreement (IA) with the BON. But these were not

ARMS SMUGGLING

Dhaka to ask Delhi to help block routes

JULFIKAR ALI MANIK

The government will ask the Indian government to help block the routes used by the militants to smuggle in explosives from India for subversive acts across Bangladesh in the last few months.

Sources also said the government will request its Indian counterpart to conduct an investigation to verify the information obtained from some arrested militants about an Indian arms ring involved in selling explosives to the Bangladeshi militants, and take measures to trace the syndicate and stop its activities.

Law enforcers and intelligence agencies are preparing a detailed report on their findings about the networks of explosives smugglers both in Bangladesh and India. The report will include among other things the detained militants' statements in this regard.

"The report will be completed in a few days," a top official of an intelligence agency told The Daily Star recently on condition of anonymity.

The militants brought in a huge quantity of explosives through different points on will be sent to the home ministry. "Then the government will send it to Indian government through Indian High Commission in Dhaka," the intelligence official added.

Investigators have gathered that power gel, ammonium nitrate, detonators and some other chemicals used in making the bombs that had been blasted since August 17 last year had come from India.

With the introduction of the national deoxyribonucleic acid (DNA) profiling laboratory yesterday in Dhaka Medical College and Hospital (DMCH), there will now be better scope of justice for criminal acts like rape, murder and burglary.

The repressed women will be highly benefited by this DNA laboratory, as it will make possible to identify the criminals and bring them to justice under speedy trial,
