Timber traders call hartal in Rangamati

UNB, Rangamati

Timber Traders and Employees' Sangram Parishad yesterday called a 48-hour hartal beginning on February 26 in Rangamati.

The Parishad leaders took the decision to enforce the shutdown on February 26 and 27 at a meeting at their office after the environment and forest ministry postponed today's meeting with them "for reasons not known".

Earlier, the Parishad withdrew a daylong hartal for February 19 after State Minister for Environment and Forest Jafrul

Islam Chowdhury assured them of solving timber transportation problems at today's meeting.

But on Monday night, Jafrul Islam Chowdhury's chief secretary phoned the Parishad leaders to inform them that the ministry has decided to postpone the meeting.

Outraged by this decision, the Parishad leaders staged demonstrations in the town and called the hartal to press for their demand.

On February 14, the state minister held a meeting with the Parishad leaders, but without any fruitful outcome.
