

Israeli soldiers take position during clashes in the West Bank town of Nablus following an Israeli army operation to arrest wanted Palestinians. The Palestinian minister for Jerusalem affairs, Khaled Abu Arafeh, was arrested today by Israeli security on the outskirts of the holy city, Hamas sources said. Abu Arafeh, a member of the militant Islamist movement, was detained at a checkpoint at the entrance to al-Azaria, a suburb of east Jerusalem which is technically part of the occupied West Bank.

Rolling Stones lead singer Mick Jagger sings at the concert in Shanghai Grand Stage. It may have taken the Rolling Stones 30 years to get the nod from Chinese censors, but the legendary rockers are finally ready to play in China for the first time.

Indian models walk the ramp presenting creations of Indian designer Abu Jani Sandeep Khosla on the third day of the Wills Lifestyle Fashion Week in New Delhi. Fashion Week runs from 05-09 April showcasing some 40 shows from 80 Indian designers.

AFP PHOTO