No. BSTI/CM10531/Electric General/05(Part-1)

Dated: 26-04-2006

Caution Notice on prohibiting sale & distribution of low quality electrical products and obtaining/renewing CM licence

It is hereby notified for general information that in consideration of public importance the Government of the People's Republic of Bangladesh, through issue of SRO, has so far included 22 electrical products under BSTI's mandatory standards certification (certification marks licence). Manufacture/marketing of these products without obtaining CM licence (standards certificate) against them is punishable offence in the eyes of law.

Electrical products are very important items vis-a-vis public safety, which if not of standard bear the risk of major accidents. As such, in public interest, the government is determined to stop manufacture, supply, sale & distribution of low quality electrical products and manufacture & marketing of such product is punishable offence under Bangladesh Standards & Testing Institution (Amendment) Act 2003. Some significant clauses & punitive rules of the said amended act are as the following:

- Sale & distribution of product without obtaining BSTI certification marks (CM) licence or illegally using mandatory BSTI mark is completely prohibited.
- BSTI inspection officials can inspect, if necessary search, probe & seize low quality electrical product at different stages of its manufacture and marketing.
- There is provision of sealing the factory or firm marked as manufacturer/marketer of product proved as low grade in test.
- No commercial advertisement of product can be publicised/published in publicity media without obtaining BSTI standards certification (CM licence) for it.
- There is provision of on the spot of quick award of appropriate punishment through mobile court or brief trial under Bangladesh Standards & Testing Institution (Amendment) Act 2003.
- There is provision of maximum four years imprisonment or maximum Tk. 1,00,000 (one lakh) and minimum Tk. 7,000 (seven thousand) fine or awarding both the punishment for sale, distribution etc of adulterated & low quality product without BSTI's standards certificate.
- In case of importing products included under mandatory CM licence and marketing without obtaining CM licence, the importer/marketer/seller shall be awarded the abovementioned punishment.
- Under the circumstance, the respective manufacturers/importers/sellers are cautioned to refrain from sale/distribution of the undermentioned 22 electrical products without obtaining standards certification from BSTI. At the same time they are advised to obtain/renew quality standard certificate against their manufactured products.
