Books

Continental Philosophy
A Contemporary Introduction
Andrew Cutrofello
Price: Tk 4895.00

The book surveys the main trends of European philosophy from Kant to the present. It is clearly written and accessible to students. In a novel approach, Andrew Cutrofello looks at continental philosophy through the lens of four questions that derive from Kant: How is truth disclosed aesthetically? To what does the feeling of respect attest? Must we despair, or may we still hope? What is the meaning of philosophical humanism? Cutrofello shows how these questions have been taken up by phenomenologists, continental ethicists, hermeneuticians and critical theorists, and existentialists and their critics. In the introduction and conclusion, he explains how the questions raised by continental philosophers differ from their analogues in the analytic tradition.

The Quest for the Elements
Paul Strathern
Price: Tk 1260.00

What is the world made of? The ancient Greeks speculated about earth, air, fire, and water; today, we turn to the periodic table for more reliable information. The story of how we got from there to here is full of fascinating people, and in this elegant, entertaining book, award-winning author Paul Strathern introduces us to ancient philosophers, medieval alchemists, and the earliest chemists—including Dmitri Mendeleyev, the card-playing nineteenth-century Russian who claimed that the answers came to him in a dream.

Global Blue
Indigo and Espionage in Colonial Bengal
Pierre-Paul Darrac & Willem van Schendel
Price: Tk 250.00

What do a cafe in Lithuania, a British art gallery and a film festival in Singapore have in common? They all carry the name Indigo. For many people around the world today, the word indigo has an aura of romance, nostalgia and gentility. Not so in Bengal, here the production of the blue dyestuff is remembered mainly as an example of colonial cruelty, greed and violence. This book analyses the emergence of indigos in Bengal as part of the history of globalisation. For centuries indigo dye was a global commodity of great value, sought after by the most powerful trading companies. Indigo played an important role in shaping the modern world by connecting people in far-flung corners of the globe.
