35% of the faculty teaching in ABAC comes from 30 different countries which gives students a greater exposure to the ever changing world around us.

Affiliations:

ABAC has affiliations with several different Universities all around the world. They also have twinning programs where one can transfer to foreign universities such as: South Bank University (UK) / University of Exeter (UK) / Wollongong University (Australia.)

ABAC success stories:

AU graduates reach middle and senior level management positions quickly. Many AU graduates work for top quality, multinational firms such as Cisco Systems, Citibank, Gillette, Proctor & Gamble, etc. AU graduates also pursue further studies at world-class institutions

Cost:

The best part about ABAC is one can get a foreign degree at a fraction of the cost of studying at a university in the western countries. Average cost of studying at ABAC is around 3000 USD/yr where as studying in the US or UK would cost around 15000USD/yr. Comparatively the living cost is also very cheap. One can live comfortably with 250USD/month including living, food and transportation. What a bargain!!

Recreation:

Imagine studying in a country like Thailand... Imagine rewarding yourself with a weekend on the beach after a hard week's study, or trekking through the jungle as soon as your exams are over! Thailand's islands and beaches are amongst the most scenic in the world.

AIESEC and IUB join hands for internships abroad

Naomi Ahmad

AIESEC and Career Guidance and Placement (CGP) office of IUB formally signed an understanding agreement to train IUB students through various academically beneficial co-curricular activities and internships in foreign countries.

AIESEC is the largest international student organization in the world that has contributed in developing the lives of millions of students in the last 58 years. AIESEC runs an Exchange Program through which students get the opportunity to go for foreign internships to any country in the AIESEC network. The Office of Career Guidance and Placement (CGP) at IUB of was instituted in the late 2003 to provide academic, financial, personal and career development counseling; monitor academic success in relation to the world of work.

The ceremony was open for all interested IUB students, and faculty members from all the Schools of IUB to witness one of the much anticipated moment in the history of AIESEC in IUB - the day AIESEC in IUB officially joins hands with the Office of Career Guidance and Placement - agesture symbolizing the tremendous support from Independent University, Bangladesh in facilitating AIESEC internships.

The event started off at 5:30 p.m. with a few words from Dr. Tanvir A. Khan, Director CGP. He welcomed all the guests and spoke on AIESEC's relevance to today's world and in developing today's youth for the ever-growing challenges of their future lives. The Master of Ceremony Baizid Muhammad and Sabrina Nigar from AIESEC in IUB smoothly conducted the whole event.

A short presentation on the AIESEC Exchange Program was shown, which aimed to inform all interested students on how to apply for an AIESEC foreign internship and also highlighted how CGP would be facilitating the Internship program of AIESEC in IUB. AIESEC engages young students right at the moment when they are wrestling with the questions that determine their ambition and the direction of their future. And by developing these individuals, AIESEC encourages them to raise their voices in unison for the development of our communities with an overriding commitment to international co-operation and understanding.

Next two AIESEC members who had very recently returned home from their internships abroad through the AIESEC exchange program was invited up to speak a few words on their experiences. Munazil Chowdhury (School of Business, IUB) and Saiful Tareq Fuad (School of Environmental Science and Management, IUB) shared their experiences while on AIESEC internship abroad.
