STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The caretaker government has made a move to reconstitute the high-powered National Security Council (NSC) to make it effective, to strengthen the ongoing crackdown on corrupt individuals, and to ensure national security and accountability in the government.

yet to be formulated," Matin said while talking to BBC Bangla Service yesterday. He said the framework will include the council's functions, responsibilities, and spheres of work in detail.

Asked about its necessity he said the NSC will also deal with the issue of accountability in the government. "If the council sits and discuss such matters, transparency and accountability will be ensured."

An NSC was formed in 1985 during the regime of military ruler HM Ershad. After restoration of democracy with the introduction of the parliamentary form of government in 1991, NSCs were formed during the regimes of BNP
