Mashud to tour Sri Lanka

SPORTS REPORTER

National discard wicketkeeper Khaled Mashud has been picked in the 16-member Bangladesh A squad to tour Sri Lanka this month for a two-match Test (4-day) and three-match one-day series.

Young stumper Sahagir Hossain, who was called up for the second string side in the just concluded home series against England A after Mashud had requested the board to release him, was also rewarded for his impressive performance with a berth for the Colombo trip.

Lanky paceman Talha Jubaer is the only addition to the squad that played against England A while Junaed Siddiquee, Marshal Ayub, Mohammad Shahjada, Nasiruddin Faruque and Ziaur Rahman have been ignored.

Left-arm spinner Manzarul Islam Rana and seaming all-rounder Farhad Reza were also included but only to play the one-day series. They will join the team after completion of the four-dayers.

Bangladesh A will leave Dhaka on March 16 and launch their campaign with the first four-dayer from March 19. The second Test will begin on March 24.

The one-day matches are billed for March 31, April 2 and 4.

The selected cricketers have been told to report at the National Academy House in Dhanmondi on March 14 at 6pm.

Bashar's warning to India, Sri Lanka

PTI, Montego Bay

Bangladesh skipper Habibul Bashar is quietly confident that his side would be more than a match for two of the formidable teams from the sub-continent, India and Sri Lanka, when group matches of the cricket World Cup unroll next week.

"In one-day cricket, anything can happen. So we want to take our chances. Let's see what happens," remarked Bashar.

Bangladesh have put the participating nations, more so India and Sri Lanka, in the tournament on alert after they beat New Zealand in a practice game earlier this week.

Bashar admits that both India and Sri Lanka, placed alongside them in Group B, are playing good cricket and would be difficult to beat. But, he hopes that his side will do everything to progress to the second round.

"They are playing very good cricket, but we have played them often enough to know of their strengths and weaknesses. There is no discernible weakness though but we are quietly confident," he said.

Bashar feels there are quite a few things which are working to his team's advantage at the moment.

"We have some decent spinners

and as everyone feels the wickets here are going to be a help to them, I think we have an advantage in that area.

"We then have quite a few batsmen who have experience and promise and who are determined to do well," said Bashar, mentioning Shahriar Nafees, the solid opener who has had a wonderful time with the bat last year.

Bashar also acknowledged the advantage his side gained by turning in the Caribbean a bit earlier than other teams. "We came here early in order to prepare for a triangular series and it helped our preparations. We are now more used to conditions and pitches," he said.

Bangladesh, as it were, have always done well in the Caribbean. They nearly won a Test against the West Indies a few years ago and in a one-day series more recently, ran the hosts close.

Bangladesh, who recently beat New Zealand in a practice game, have the knack of upsetting strong teams. Their upset victories over Pakistan during the 1999 World Cup and later against Australia make them a force to be reckoned with in the showpiece event.

WI look for consistency

The winners of the first two World Cups, West Indies are looking to become the first host team to win the competition but to do so they will need to turn around over a decade of decline.

Unlike in 1975 and 1979, when they won the tournament with players of the calibre of Clive Lloyd, Vivian Richards and Michael Holding, the current West Indies side is short on established top class internationals with a proven record.

If they are to succeed it will require their young players quickly coming of age against Group D opponents Pakistan, Ireland and Zimbabwe.

The experience is found among their batsmen, primarily in the early order with record-breaking captain Brian Lara and openers Chris Gayle and Shivnarine Chanderpaul all having proved they can deliver big scores.

But with the ball, Lara has to hope that 22-year-old paceman Jerome Taylor and 23-year-old all-rounder Dwayne Bravo can turn their undoubted talent and much talked-of potential into consistent match-winning displays.

The decision not to pick an out-and-out spin-bowler in the squad and rely on slow-bowling batsmen Gayle and Marlon Samuels as alternatives to the specialist quickies and back-up medium-pacers is a gamble.

Lara has left spinner Dave Mohammed as a reserve and he has to hope that the wickets are well suited to seam and that his pacemen deliver otherwise his attack risks being one-dimensional.

Form over the past two years suggests that the West Indies have the ability to beat anyone in the one-day game but are also quite capable of pressing the self-destruct button and slumping to embarrassing defeat.

After all, this is a team which was

Dav sees bright future

REUTERS, Bridgetown

An unbeaten run in the World Cup warm-ups could fulfil coach Dav Whatmore's prophecy that Bangladesh were not far off from shedding their tags as perennial underdogs.

While a victory over amateur outfit Scotland was always on the cards, a spectacular two-wicket upset over New Zealand on their debut outing this week in the Caribbean came as a very timely major boost.

The victory took on even greater significance since the Kiwis stand third in the rankings after pulling off a 3-0 whitewash over world champions Australia just weeks ago.

"It's important for Bangladesh to win as many (matches) as we can. Against a good opposition like New Zealand, the win was terrific for us," Whatmore told reporters.

"We're ranked ninth ... and most judges around the world would expect the opposition to beat Bangladesh every time there is fixture.

"(But) we're improving all the time and I just feel it's becoming more of a reality that Bangladesh might cause an upset or two."

It is a mantra that Whatmore hopes his men will carry forward over the next two weeks as the road ahead could turn out to be very bumpy.

Placed in one of the two groups featuring three Test nations, Bangladesh will have to steer past at least one of their more fancied sub-continent rivals India or Sri Lanka if they are to progress beyond the opening phase for the first time in three attempts.

If they needed any inspiration to knock one of the big two out in Group B, which also features debutants Bermuda, they need not look far.

Bangladesh were one of only four nations to finish with 2-0 records at the warm-ups this week, joining India, Australia and Pakistan.

Lalmatia Club edge CCS

SPORTS REPORTER

Despite brisk half-centuries by Jewel Hossain and Rakib, CCS remained winless in the Kai-Altech First Division Cricket League when they suffered a three-wicket defeat to Lalmatia Club yesterday.

Jewel made 60 and Rakib smashed a 41-ball 50 as CCS scored a fighting 234-7 in 50 overs at the Dhaka University ground.

Left-arm spinner Mohammad Isam was the peak of CCS attack with 2-43 but they failed to stop Lalmatia reaching 237-7 with 11 deliveries to spare. Adil topscored with 66 for the winners.

In other matches, Jatrabari KC (187-3) handed a seven-wicket defeat to Kathalagan GCC (182) at BKSP, Gazi Tank defended a moderate 183 all out on way to a 21-run win against Young Pegasus B (162) at the Dhanmondi Cricket Stadium while Surjo Torun (238-6) recorded a four-wicket victory against Prantic KC (237) at the City Club ground.

BD A win at last

SPORTS REPORTER

The spinners finally brought some solace for Bangladesh A as they guided the home team to a five-wicket victory against England A in the third and final one-day match at the Mirpur Sher-e-Bangla National Stadium yesterday.

Though it was just an academic affair after the visitors had secured the series with one match in hand, the Tushar Imran-led second string Bangladesh side regained the confidence by winning the last game ahead of their this month's tour of Sri Lanka.

Left-arm spinners Manzarul Islam, who shared the new ball with pacer Dollar Mahmud in a surprise move, and Mahmudullah Riyad scripted the victory when they equally shared six wickets to warp up the visitors' innings for 194 runs in 49.4 overs. Bangladesh then romped to 198-5 with five overs to spare.

Tushar brought out-of-favour Manzarul into attack in the very second over after inviting their opponents to bat first and the experienced left-arm spinner justified the decision removing Steve Davies in his very first delivery. Manzarul trapped Nick Compton leg before wicket in his second over as the touring side were reduced to 10-2.

Will Jefferson (45) and Mathew Prior (51) produced 73 runs for the third wicket to repair the early damage before the former was bowled by another left-arm spinner Mehrab Hossain.

Riyad then took charge to wreck the visitor's middle order as he returned with figures of 3-27 in his ten-over spell.

Manzarul also shone with the bat as he scored an unbeaten 38 off 52 balls that featured six boundaries to ensure the comfortable win. Earlier, Jahirul Islam (41), Nazimuddin (42) and Tushar (34) chipped in with notable contribu-
