Chicken culling on

Jirani declared bird flu infected area for 3 months

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Over 3,000 more chickens were culled yesterday at poultry farms in Gazipur while some 5,000 fowls died of undetected reasons at a farm in Narayanganj in the last two days.

A total of 3,212 chickens, including 962 chicks, of a poultry farm at Jirani in Gazipur were culled and 31,000 eggs destroyed. With this, the number of culled poultry birds rose to about 36,000.

The incidents have created panic about bird flu at many poultry farms across the country.

Different poultry farms started culling chickens following

Thursday's government acknowledgement of detecting avian influenza virus, popularly known as bird flu, at the state-run Biman Poultry Complex in Savar.

District Livestock Officer Dr Kafuddin Bhuiyan received a letter in this regard from the acting DGO of Livestock Directorate.

The officials sent two dead chickens to laboratories in Dhaka and Savar to examine the cause of bird flu or fowl cholera.

Earlier, 5,000 fowls died at the same farm between Monday and Friday. Farm officials said they fed the chickens medicine at the suggestion of veterinary doctors but there has been no improvement.

They said they collected the 10,000 chicks from Phoenix Poultry Farm yesterday after 5,000 chickens died there mysteriously.

Dhaka to ratify UN convention on cultural expression

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The government yesterday decided to ratify the United Nations Convention on Protection and Promotion of Cultural Expression, to enshrine the primacy of cultural diversity within nations and to enhance cooperation and dialogue between cultures.

The decision was taken at the weekly meeting of the council of advisers presided over by Chief Adviser (CA) Fakhruddin Ahmed at the CA's office, Syed Fahim Munain, press secretary to the CA, said at a press briefing.

The UN convention on cultural expression stresses the need to protect cultural diversity, emphasises the need to incorporate culture in national policy and recognises the importance of traditional knowledge, especially

A highly placed energy ministry source pointed out that as the BPC's losses will be ultimately handled by the government, the finance ministry is considering a proposal to issue treasury bonds of different maturities amounting to Tk 10,000 crore in favour of four nationalised commercial banks (NCBs) to finance BPC's liabilities to these banks.

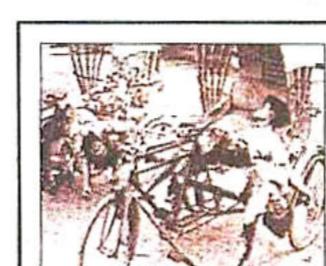

The finance ministry is also considering an energy ministry proposal to waive interests on the BPC's loans from the NCBs.

who violated the law.

The caretaker government's recent drive against corruption has compelled many such buyers to abandon their expensive cars in the city streets without any documents.

These luxurious cars and sport utility vehicles (SUV) purchased by the former MPs belong to prestigious brands like Mercedes Benz, BMW, Hummer, and Porsche.

According to information received in 2006, 54 of the 275 cars imported by MPs were BMWs, the cost of which is upwards of Tk 20 lakh to Tk 84 lakh without tax.
