STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The figures on foreign direct investment (FDI) will be published solely by the central bank from now on to put an end to the dispute over figures released by both Bangladesh Bank (BB) and Board of Investment (BoI).

"The central bank will take the key responsibility to publish the figures on FDI," BB Governor Dr Salehuddin Ahmed told journalists after a meeting on 'Strategy to Attract FDI in Bangladesh' held at the BoI office in Dhaka yesterday.

As part of its initiative to attract more FDI, the BoI organised the meeting where representatives from ministries concerned and different government bodies were present.

CORPORATISATION

3 NCBs asked to end process by May

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The Ministry of Finance yesterday instructed three nationalised commercial banks (NCBs) — Sonali, Janata and Agrani — to complete all formalities to corporatise by May 31, 2007.

The ministry in a letter yesterday asked the banks to submit application for registration as public limited company to the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies & Firms by April 22 after finalisation of the prescribed Memorandum and Articles of Association (MAA).

As per the timeline set by the finance ministry, the registrar of Joint Stock Companies & Firms will complete registration of the three public limited companies by May 15, 2007.

Following the registration the government will issue a gazette notification in this regard.

The ministry has already sent a model of the MAA to the banks after vetting from the law ministry.

The council of advisers to the caretaker government on February 03 approved the draft by-laws required to turn the nationalised commercial banks into public limited companies.

Freeing the nationalised banks from government control through corporatisation is one of the major conditions that the World Bank (WB) set for the country to receive the $200-million fourth instalment of Development Support Credit (DSC). The WB board is likely to approve the DSC on May 29 next.

After corporatisation the government or the finance ministry would not be able to interfere in the banks' decisions on disbursement of loans, recruitment, and promotions including those to the vital posts like general managers, deputy managing directors, and managing directors.

A maximum of 13 members to be appointed by the government would comprise the board of directors. They would be accountable to the Bangladesh Bank (BB) the way private commercial banks are.

Cup takes a break

SPORTS REPORTER

After Sri Lanka's exciting two-run win over England in St John's, a two-day break begins today at the World Cup. The recess will end on Saturday when Bangladesh take on in-form South Africa at the Providence Stadium in Georgetown in another Super Eights affair.

The win on Wednesday took Sri Lanka to second spot behind Australia on run-rate difference but the two teams, along with New Zealand, are all on six points. South Africa have four points while Bangladesh are in the bottom of the pile with no points still to their credit after playing two Super Eights matches.

TigerCricket.com adds: It rained all day in Georgetown for the last two days but for the Bangladesh cricketers it means more annoying time without cricket training and the way the showers ruled non-stop, it raises concerns about the South Africa game.

Rare marine fish caught in Cox's Bazar

MUAZZEM HOSSAIN SHAKIL, Cox's Bazar

A very rare species of fish, captured from 60 to 80 feet deep sea water around 50-70 km southwest of the St Martin's Islands on April 2, is now kept at the museum of under-construction Panowa Bay Park at Cox's Bazar.

Raguib Uddin Ahmed, a biologist of the park, identified the rare fish at Cox's Bazar fish harbour and took immediate steps for its preservation.

Generally called ocean sunfish or slender sunfish, the fish's scientific name is Ranzania laevis that belongs to family Molidae.

The coral reef dependent species of fish, two and a half feet in length and weighing about 6 kg, has got an amusing tube-like mouth opening to suck algae.

The sluggish creature moves with the help of cartilaginous tail, appearing as

FIGHTING INFLATION

Mirza contradicts WB idea of curtailing credit

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Finance and Planning Adviser Mirza Azizul Islam yesterday said the view of the World Bank (WB) that reducing banks' credit will help rein in potential inflationary pressure is not right.

"We have to decide it by considering two factors—if excess aggregated demand has been created and, at the same time, if supply has been affected," Mirza Aziz told reporters at his secretariat office.

He said many people think that inflation takes place only due to the increased supply of currency. "But inflation is a price—it is an aggregate price in which demand and supply are involved," Aziz said.

"Now, if reducing banks' credit adversely affects the supply, it will be difficult to control inflation," he added while talking to the press after a pre-budget discussion with a

Bangladesh Economic Association (BEA) delegation led by its President Qazi Kholiuzzaman Ahmad.

At the discussion, the BEA members opposed the recent hike in prices of kerosene and diesel. They suggested utilising the money recovered from corrupt people by the joint forces to subsidise the two petroleum products.

The WB on Wednesday in a commentary on the recent fuel price hike suggested tightening banks' credit to control potential inflationary pressures caused by the increase.

On the WB suggestion, the finance adviser said, "Economists may have different views but we will have to examine those suggestions in the context of reality."

Six American and four British soldiers were killed in separate attacks in Iraq, coalition forces announced yesterday, as Britain prepared to transfer security of another province to local troops.

Amid one of the bloodiest recent 24-hour periods for foreign troops in Iraq, the US military was also investigating reports that a Black Hawk helicopter was shot down south of Baghdad in a notorious Sunni insurgent stronghold.

The four British soldiers, together with a civilian translator travelling in the same vehicle, were

SATKHIRA LAND GRABBING

Munda community losing homesteads

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Satkhira

The Munda community in Kashipur of Shyamnagar upazila in Satkhira sent copies a letter to the Anti-corruption Commission, intelligence agencies and joint forces asking for their help in preventing influential land grabbers taking away their ancestral homesteads.

In the latter, around 300 indigenous people of 46 families alleged that influential land grabbers have been torturing them, threatening them with death and implicating them in false cases filed with Shyamnagar Police Station.

They said the land grabbers are hatching conspiracy to create panic among the people of Munda community. "Over 29 Munda families were compelled to leave their ancestral lands and take shelter at another place," they said.

They said one Kamrul Islam of Iswaripur in Shyamnagar has been pumping in saline water from the river into his shrimp enclosure set up around Kashipur destroying arable land so that the Munda community cannot cultivate their lands.

Moreover, Kamrul and his gang are not only torturing the indigenous people but also harassing them by implicating them in false cases in a bid to compel them to leave the area, they added.

They said Kamrul's younger brother Monzur Rahi, son-in-law of former Jamaat-e-Islami lawmaker Gazi Nazrul Islam, and his gang attacked the indigenous people on April 17 last year that left 12 people of the community injured.

The gang also chopped down trees on their lands and cut open an embankment that ruined the water of their pond with saline water, they alleged. They said they had filed cases with a police station but no action was taken against the criminals.
