Some Maoist cadres, members of the mosque and a couple of curious bystanders attend. After slogans are shouted around the body, there is a short prayer for the dead while the cadres watch from a distance.

