The talkative genre

6-9

Human beings love to talk. They have been talking since oral sounds were given meaning by some wise people in the times now lost in antiquity. In the past, people used to talk to express important thoughts. Today, it appears, most people most of the time talk to express meaningless thoughts. Some do not even have any thoughts. These are thoughtless talks!

Cry Chittagong Cry

Chittagong is a unique city in the region. It is the only city in the country with hills, sea and plain land. Many Arab traders of ninth and tenth century found the city too good to leave and made it their home.

"They are talented without any doubt as they have managed to impress us all throughout. But what they mostly lack is the confidence, because no matter how talented one is, what matters is what they are able to give on stage pronto. And we have always encouraged them to come up with their own composition and be creative."
