EC puts the cart before the horse in Rajshahi

Goes for voter listing without amending electoral roll ordinance

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The Election Commission (EC) has started the field level task for preparing a fresh voter list with photographs in Rajshahi City Corporation (RCC) area without amending the existing electoral rolls ordinance, which does not allow such a move.

Directed by the EC, the local election office on July 29 started sending its enumerators on door-to-door visits in the city corporation area to collect particulars of prospective voters with prescribed forms for preparing the voter list with photographs.

Talking to The Daily Star yesterday, legal experts termed the step 'unlawful' and asked the EC not to continue the task before amending Electoral Rolls Ordinance 1982. The ordinance asks the EC to update the existing voter list, but there is no provision for preparing a new one.

The Supreme Court had also asked the EC to update the existing electoral roll several times.

"It seems that the task is unlawful. The Election Commission should have amended the law before beginning the task," Ghulam Rabbani, former judge of Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, said.

STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Sylhet

A Sylhet court yesterday framed charges against Mufti Abdul Hannan, chief of the outlawed Harkat-ul-Jihad (Huji), and three others for the grenade attack on British High Commissioner Anwar Choudhury in Sylhet in 2004.

Additional District and Sessions Judge Ferdous Ahmed framed the charges at about 10:30am in presence of the accused.

The other accused in the case are Mufti Hannan's brother Mofizur Rahman and Huji operatives Delwar Hossain Ripon and Sharif Shahedul Alam alias Bipul.

The judge also fixed August 14 for starting deposition of the prosecution witnesses. The number of prosecution witnesses is 56, court sources said.

Coming out of the court Mufti Hannan went on shouting. "I am totally innocent, I am falsely implicated in the case. I know nothing about it," he told the reporters. "You all know well what Sheikh Hasina had done, she had staged a drama. She implicated me in the bomb case during her regime," the Huji chief added.

Another accused Shahedul also said that he had been falsely implicated in the case. "I was also not given the time to hire a lawyer to defend me," he added.

US diplomat for lifting ban on politics

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

US Charge d' Affaires Geeta Pasi yesterday urged to lift the ban on politics saying it is required to bring positive change in Bangladesh.

"Dialogue is part and parcel of an effective reform process. As such, lifting the ban on politics is absolutely critical as a kick start to positive change in Bangladesh. The arbitrary application of the ban has been a concern, both domestically and internationally," she said.

Geeta Pasi added lifting the ban does not mean ushering back the culture of violent partisan street politics. "It would signal that there is room for a new, constructive political discourse, and h e l p s

AFP, Miranshah

Pakistani troops backed by helicopter gunships killed 15 pro-Taliban militants in intense fighting in a troubled tribal zone bordering Afghanistan yesterday, the army said.

Separately security officials told AFP the Islamic rebels abducted four soldiers in the rugged North Waziristan region, where the United States alleges that al-Qaeda has created a safe haven to plan attacks against Western targets.

North Waziristan has seen a spike in violence since pro-Taliban rebels in the area scrapped a peace deal with the government on July 15, five days after the army stormed a radical mosque in the capital, leaving scores dead.

Fighting raged for six hours after an army patrol came under attack after signalling three vehicles to stop at the Banda checkpoint in the conflict-torn region, said chief military spokesman Major General Waheed Arshad.

"Around 40 miscreants started firing at security forces and took positions in nearby hills, and security forces retaliated. Helicopter support was called in, there was a heavy exchange of fire," said Arshad.

"Fifteen miscreants are dead and we have their bodies with us. Two were injured and they have
