A medley of abstracts from Japan

Artworks by Shimizu Tomono(L) and Wakana Yamauchi

SHIMIZU Tomono, who has had many group exhibitions in Tokyo, held a solo at the Zainul Gallery recently. She had used soft, gentle colours and brought in interesting texture work in her mixed media creations.

neatly juxtaposed with one another. Circles of green and yellow brought in abstract images of flowers and leaves, while broad bars of pink, gold and white set off the tiny circles.

Do's and don'ts for little ones during flood

Sisimpur's outreach programme

CULTURAL CORRESPONDENT

Speaking on the latest activities of Sisimpur at Hotel La Vinci recently, eminent actor and cultural activist Asaduzzaman Noor of Nayantara Communications said, "Sisimpur is working with children aged three to six. We want to educate through fun and entertainment. We wish to teach not only the alphabets and the numbers but make the kids aware of their surroundings, the country with its people, and the entire world, on the whole. At present, in particular, we want to convey the gravity of the flood, that has endangered the lives of many. We want to show especially how the children are affected e.g. they are bitten by snakes and insects. They are dying of diarrhoea and drowning in the overwhelming water. We are now in the third phase of the curriculum of giving relevant messages to the children. We hope to reach them in 25 leading schools with Halum and Tuktuki."

I could contribute as a director. I sit with the writers when they are writing the scripts."
Ishita Dey adds, "In the Outreach Section of Nayantara, they orient the children where there is no TV. They show films and distribute books and posters with the help of the puppet characters Halum and Tuktuki. In the programme today we've brought together 12 newspapers and five magazines in order to promote Sisimpur."
The new timing of Sisimpur is on BTv at 9.05 am on Friday, 2.15 on Saturday and 5.05 on Wednesday and Thursday.

Homage to Tagore and Nazrul

MOHAMMAD SHAFIQU L ISLAM

A programme celebrating the occasion of Rabindra-Nazrul anniversary 1414 was held at the Metropolitan University, Sylhet, recently. The students of the university paid homage to the two great poets of Bengali literature through an array of performances. The programme, arranged by the Literary and Cultural Club of the university, was divided into two parts.

Students of Metropolitan University, Sylhet perform at the programme

The first part featured unveiling wall pictures, songs, dance, recitation and drama. The second part was replete with a cultural performance by the students. The classic characters of Rabindranath Tagore and Kazi Nazrul Islam were well fleshed out by the students. The session was titled Ankhitpot-e Rabindra-Nazrul.

A speech of Kazi Nazrul Islam was presented by Shah Ahmed Ripon, lecturer, Department of English with apt emotion and verve that moved the audience.

The stage decoration with pencil sketches of Rabindra and Nazrul added to the ambience of the programme. The speakers in the programme said that the Nobel Laureate Poet Rabindranath Tagore and the Rebel Poet Kazi Nazrul Islam are at the core of Bengali literature while complementing each other.

Love and death dominate Locarno nods

The Japanese film "Ai No Yokan" (The Rebirth), a story of love between the mother of a murderer and the father of the victim, claimed the top prize at the Locarno International Film Festival, which concluded Saturday.
