Call to phase out ozone depleting substance by 2010

BSS, Dhaka

The International Ozone Day was observed in the country yesterday as elsewhere in the world laying emphasis on phasing out of ozone depleting substance (ODS) gases by December 2010, a universal timeframe under the Montreal Protocol.

Bangladesh has been observing the day since 1995 with other member-countries of the United Nations in the light of the Montreal Protocol, a global treaty to phase out the production and consumption of ODS across the world.

This year's theme of the International Ozone Day was 'Celebrating 20 years of progress in 2007' that commemorates the adoption of the Montreal Protocol in Canada in 1987.

Speaking at a seminar arranged

Numerous fruits have hit the market on the occasion of Ramadan but their prices are dear. The picture was taken from Purana Paltan in the city yesterday.

on this occasion in the city, experts called for sensitising the common people about the gases harmful for ozone layer, a stratospheric layer protecting the earth from the sun's ultraviolet rays.

They urged the government to take steps for the recovery of CFC gases used in the refrigerators and air-conditioners and strengthening the on-going training programme for technicians of the chilling sector as well as distributing more recovery kits to stop release of the gases in the air.

According to the scientists, the ozone layer protects the planet from ultraviolet radiation, which at high levels poses a number of dangers, including increased risk of skin cancer and cataracts.

The scientists first marked the decline in stratospheric ozone over Antarctica in 1986.

The hole varied between 20 and 29 million sq km in the early 1990s. It was 29 million sq km in September 2000, 27 million sq km in September 2003, and 24 million sq km in 2004.

The highest depletion was found over the North Pole up to 30 percent while over Europe and other high latitudes it varied between five and 30 percent.

The scientists have estimated that the ozone layer over mid-latitude and Antarctic would heal by 2050, if no further ozone-damaging chemicals are released into the atmosphere.
