Position Vacancy Announcement

The United States Agency for International Development (USAID)/Bangladesh invites Bangladeshi national applicants for the position of Project Management Specialist for its Food and Disaster (FAD) Management Unit under the office of Economic Growth, Food and Environment.

The incumbent serves as a specialist in the following three key categories: a) Food Security; b) Disaster Management; and c) Gender.

Food Security: The incumbent is responsible for the planning, formation, and implementation stages of USAID/Bangladesh Title II-supported food aid development assistance and emergency programs. She provides strategic guidance in program design, management and evaluation. She serves as FAD Unit's principle focal person with the World Food Program Country Office. As a member of the FAD Unit managing food aid, she may provide strategic guidance and periodic backstopping to relevant programs.

Disaster Management: The incumbent is responsible for providing technical advice to the Mission Disaster Relief Officer in emergency disaster situations; information gathering from various sources; drafting of situation reports; conducting disaster damage needs assessments; and reporting to international donors through the Disaster and Emergency Response local consultative group and the USAID Office of Foreign Disaster Assistance.

Gender Specialist: The incumbent is responsible for integrating and ensuring the consideration of gender issues and concerns within the FAD Unit portfolio of activities. She provides guidance for developing strategic linkages between food security and gender.

QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED:

- Education: A Masters degree from a recognised university in Economics, Statistics, Social Science, International Relations, Business Administration/Management or agriculture or a closely related development field is required. Possession of Disaster Management Training Certificate from international/recognized institution is desirable.
- Language Proficiency: Excellent communications skills, reading, writing and speaking abilities in Bangla and English required.
- Prior Work Experience: Not less than seven years progressively responsible experience in design, management, and accountability of development and relief activities through food aid in combination with other resources. At least three years of experience in disaster management is required. Experience in host government and foreign government response mechanisms and implementing organizations, damage and needs assessments, situation reporting, and related relief and rehabilitation efforts are required. At least three years of experience in gender related policies, activities and issues is required.
- Knowledge: A thorough knowledge of host government, international NGOs, foreign government and donor agencies policies, laws, regulations, and operational procedures related to food security policy and food aid with particular understanding of food assistance programs and activities; donor project documentation, design and implementation procedures; and Government of Bangladesh (GOB) food supply and distribution systems. Knowledge of GOB and donor agency policies and regulations relating to disaster management. Knowledge of gender in development principles and demonstrated experience in their application.
- Skills and Abilities: The position requires a high degree of competence, professional maturity and experience in the understanding of food security issues such as access, availability, utilization and risk. Requires excellent technical, managerial and inter-personal skills with an in-depth understanding of the inner-workings of the GOB, particularly of the livelihood security improvements and disaster management sectors. Ability to prepare and make formal power point presentations on cross-cutting issues such as gender, Monitoring and Evaluation (M&E), disaster management and food security, to internal and external audiences. Ability to discuss issues and negotiate with government officials on matters of food aid and disaster management policy. Required computer skills include ability to use statistical software, spreadsheet and power point including the ability to obtain, analyze and evaluate a variety of data and to organize and present this information in meaningful terms to others as required. The ability to draft factual and interpretive reports covering complex subject matters is required. Ability to use special Geographical Information System (GIS) features to analyze technical and complex data on food security, flood forecast, inundation maps, and related satellite imagery and develop various forms of graphic maps for the Mission reporting and response.

Interested applicants must submit a resume along with a recent photograph and a one page cover letter stating their level of education, experience, etc. that describes key experiences and perspectives which demonstrates how they qualify for this position. Please submit to the USAID Human Resources Section, GPO Box 2593, Ramna, Dhaka-1000, no later than October 09, 2007. Only short-listed candidates will be notified.
