

community service can take many different forms. The major floods this year united the students and teachers once again to work for a cause. Just like every time when there is such a crisis as this, students all over the country have shown their all out support for helping the poor and needy flood-affected people. Hundreds of acres of rice fields have been drowned and the country where more than 80% of the people live in rural areas and depend on agriculture as their only source of income, suffered badly.

Photo by Amirul Rajiv