A Bugatti Toaster!!!

Hmm... This one's for all the auto freaks like me. If you can't afford the sports car, then get this toaster! Yes, you read that right-Bugatti has cooked up a toaster for all its fans who cannot afford the real thing. But at $300 (BDT 21,000) a piece, it really has some outrageous pricing!

"It's an internet-ready, tri-mode, LCD color, MP3 compatible, digital wireless communicator. We make them extra big so people will notice how cool you are."

Triops Panoramic Camera

This product can take images while being thrown, suspended or just being placed in an unusual location. It captures the moment by responding to sound or movement, or by reacting to the manually operated release. Sequentially taken photographs are possible as well as 360 degree panorama images. All working parts are integrated in the robust casing and can be operated easily and intuitively. Pictures can be wirelessly transmitted to a separate display unit for display. This unit functions as a processing and storage device and the camera's charging station.
