ESSENTIALS

A place to work

With an increasing number of people becoming more and more career-minded, that too from an early age, having a home office is becoming essential. A home office doesn't mean a whole room dedicated as such- after all in today's system of box-living, it isn't often feasible. But every home should have a little nook that can be dedicated to work.

Storage-wise

If you're blessed with an extra room to turn into a study/office, thank your lucky stars. But if not, find a place big enough to fit a desk into. Opt for a desk with many compartments. It should be larger in height than in width. That way you can build up storage while saving precious space.

No to knick-knack

Evaluate how you want to use this space. Since space is limited, refrain from cluttering it with mementoes and knick-knacks. Allot each compartment to one specific need- a drawer for stationery, a shelf for files, and so on.

Clean routine

Don't forget to clean your home office once every week. After all you don't want it to get cluttered and look like you brought the office home.

A little space and some good organisational skills are all you need to make a home office. So give it a shot.

SHOP TALK

ACCORDING to our culture and tradition, hair is the single most important attribute that accentuates the beauty of our womenfolk! There is nothing more appealing and seductively mysterious than a dark-haired beauty! Therefore, in light of all that, this week we have come up with a list of a few must-haves when it comes to hair care, that will give you a professional, everyday look, which, is otherwise, quite impossible to attain unless one goes to a salon everyday!

Hair Potions/Serums

This is the number one step to getting your hair set and prepared for styling. Once you are out of the shower, it is essential that you rub about a coin-sized amount of hair Serums are similar to hair potions except that they have a thinner consistency and come in spray bottles. Simply spray onto wet hair for smooth, shiny hair! Hair potions and serums are available in a number of brands such as Livon, Sunsilk and Loreal, at almost any departmental or retail store, with prices starting from Tk 60 and above.

Hair Dryers

This particular gadget has been around for quite a long time now, and is still, potion into the wet hair. This ensures for smoother combing and untangles the hair without so much as a single hair fall!

undoubtedly, the most important item when it comes to hair styling. Whether at a beauty salon or at home, one can never do without a hair dryer. These also come in a variety of brands, including Phillips, Braun, Black and Decker and still many others. The price for hair dryers ranges from Tk 1200 and above depending on the number of features available with each individual version.

Flat Irons/Straighteners

This is a must-have if you want a sleek and chic look, especially if you've got unruly, frizzy hair and you've styled it with bangs and fringes! The best thing about using a flat iron, however, is that you are not required to wet your hair beforehand. All one has to do is plug it in and let it heat for a couple of minutes and you can start right before going to a party. It is very easy to handle and gives you the glamorous look in a matter of minutes! Like the hair dryers, these are also available in a number of brands starting from Tk 2000 and many other not-so-famous brands which are cheaper, yet work just as well. Flat irons are available at brand showrooms and other departmental stores such as Almas.

BY THE WAY

Cool cold cures

AT one time or another, every one of us succumbs to the common cold. The bravest, the strongest, the sweetest, the smartest our virtues matter not to these viruses as they set about reducing us to coughing, sneezing shadows of our former selves.

Worse yet, there's no cure. Antibiotics, champs at knocking out bacterial infections, are down for the count against cold viruses. So we sniffle on bravely, maybe take a cold pill or two, and hope the symptoms will disappear in the customary week or so.

Take C and see: Vitamin C works in the body as a scavenger, picking up all sorts of trash including virus trash. It can shorten the length of a cold from seven days to maybe two or three days. Vitamin C may also cut back on coughing, sneezing, and other symptoms. Short-term use of such high doses shouldn't cause any side effects. But you should get your doctor's okay before starting any supplement program. Better yet, simply get your additional vitamin C by drinking it. Orange, grapefruit, and cranberry juices are rich sources of vitamin C.
