NEW ORGANOGRAM
38 ACC officers transferred

UNB, Dhaka

The Anti-Corruption Commission yesterday transferred 12 of its deputy directors and 26 assistant directors to place them under its new organogram from their current positions.

Two circulars signed by ACC Director General (Admin and establishment) Col Hanif Iqbal were issued ordering postings of the 38 officers. Of the 12 deputy directors, five are going from the ACC Headquarters and Dhaka district office to its other district offices. Two of them will join the headquarters and Dhaka district office from other district offices.

Three deputy directors will move from district offices outside the capital to another districts out of Dhaka while two of them currently in the headquarters will be placed in different sections within the headquarters.

Of 26 assistant directors, 11 will leave the headquarters and Dhaka district offices while six assistant directors will come to the capital.

The officers have been ordered to join their new places by January 15, 2008. Those who are engaged in inquiries and investigations will have to inform the director general (admin and establishment) by December 31 if it is not possible to get their job done within January 15.

This is the second wave of transfers after the approval of the new organogram. In early November, circulars were issued for transfers of 23 deputy directors and 30 assistant directors.

War Museum programme

Staff Correspondent

The Liberation War Museum will hold a discussion and cultural function on its premises in the city today as part of its weeklong programme marking the Victory Day.

Sector Commander Maj Gen (ret'd) KM Shafiqullah will speak at the discussion.

At the cultural function, members of Ustad Momtaz Ali Khan Sangeet Academy and Bahshikha will render songs and members of Spandan will perform drama.

The weeklong programmes will end on December 16.
