STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The inter-ministerial committee on land development yesterday did not approve two projects of Building Development and Design Limited (BDDL) and Amin Mohammad Foundation Limited for not complying with land development codes.

When placed for approval yesterday,

The committee has turned down the developers' petition as they do not meet the main criteria, possessing 85 percent of total land of the project, Housing and Public Works Secretary ASM Rashidul Hye told journalists.

BDDL sought approval for a project at Natun Bazar in Badda while Amin Mohammad Foundation at Sabujbagh and Demra.

Officials from land, housing, civil aviation ministries and Rajuk attended the meeting with Mainul Hosein, adviser for housing and public works, and land ministers, in the chair.

BDDL possesses hardly 1% of total project land while Amin Mohammad Foundation hardly 2 percent, sources at the meetings said.

The two projects do not meet land development criterion that makes it obligatory to have 30 percent land for hospital, school, playground and park, sources added.

Besides, they have not received no-objection certificates from the authorities concerned.

Sources said Rajuk has filed cases against 23 projects, including BDDL, for violating land development rules.

Housing secretary told journalists that a draft law for real estate business titled "Real Estate Act" has already been finalised which awaits the law ministry's vetting.

Caution about non-CNG Cylinders

Recent CNG cylinder explosions have been caused by non-CNG cylinders. It has been observed that some CNG cylinders on the vehicles are being replaced with non-CNG cylinders in coalition with some unscrupulous workshops without knowledge of the vehicle owners. Using non-CNG cylinders for CNG usage is prohibited, extremely dangerous and can result in serious accidents. Therefore, we recommend all CNG vehicle users to get their CNG cylinders verified from their respective CNG conversion centers, especially after getting any repair work done.

Genuine CNG cylinders are guaranteed and bear the name of manufacturer, date of manufacturing / expiry, a unique serial no. engraved on the cylinders and can be traced back. All these details are mentioned in the documents (warranty card etc.) that are given to the customer during conversion at authorized workshops.

We request all vehicle owners to check that the details on their vehicles' cylinders are duly recorded and to ensure that they have not been unscrupulously changed by anyone when the vehicles were not attended by the owners. You may also verify the authenticity of your vehicle's cylinder from any authorized workshop. It may protect you against any fraud and accident.

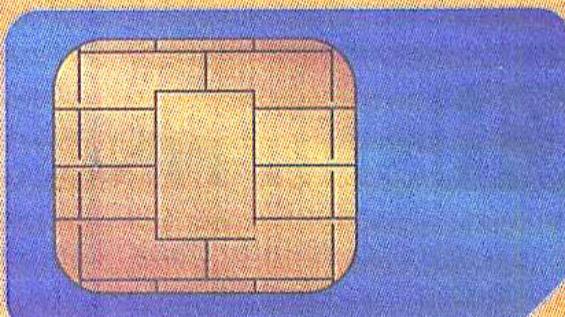

We are always at your service.
