

LAUNCH DISASTERS Enact law to punish persons responsible Speakers tell seminar

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Speakers at a seminar yesterday called on the government to enact a new law or amend existing laws in order to take stern action against those responsible for launch accidents in rivers.

In most cases, persons responsible for launch disasters go unpunished as there are many loopholes in the existing laws, they added.

They also stressed the need to launch awareness campaign to discourage people from travelling in overcrowded launches.

Bangladesh Legal Aid and Service Trust (BLAST) organised the seminar on 'Launch capsizes and legal remedies' at Biam auditorium in the city.

Speaking as the chief guest, Justice Naimuddin Ahmed, vice chairman of BLAST, said a new law should be enacted immediately to bring the persons responsible to book.

He also said that the authorities should procure new salvage vessels because the existing vessels -- 'Rustam' and 'Hamza' -- are very old.

Advocate Nizamul Huq Nasim proposed forming a passengers' committee to raise awareness about launch disasters.

Soma Islam, deputy director of BLAST, said a total of 285 launch accidents took place from 1976 to 2002, but no step has yet been taken to prevent such disasters.

She suggested that special programmes should be taken to train launch owners and staff on preventive measures.
