The Comeback of Bird Flu

SRABONTI NARMEEN ALI and HANA SHAMS AHMED
PHOTO: ZAHEDUL I. KHAN

As reports of chickens and other birds dying of bird flu or suspected bird flu keep coming in it is normal for people to respond with fear. But fear, without taking any practical steps, can only spell disaster for a country where thousands of people are dependent on the poultry industry and millions of lives are at risk.