

Glimpses from the Past

BOYS and girls, please run to your dad and granddad with this page and watch how their faces brighten up as memories will flood their minds. They have used this wonderful machine called " Typewriter" in their office for decades till computers replaced them. A Typewriter was an integral part of an office in the bygone days all over the world including Bangladesh.

Today many such machines must be shedding silent tears in museums thinking about their heydays. Well, life is like this.

---Star Campus Desk

