Jafar opened the account for the winners, who led 2-0 at halftime at the Moulvibazar Stadium.

Five other winners of the day also moved into their respective zonal semis.

Lalmonirhat blanked Thakurgaon 2-0 at Dinajpur with a brace from Monabbar while Munna and Nazrul struck one goal apiece in hosts Jamalpur's 2-1 victory against Sirajganj.

Manikganj Correspondent adds: Narayanganj stormed into the zonal semifinal with the biggest victory of the day when they thrashed Madaripur 11-0 at the local stadium, thanks to a hattrick by Arif Hossain.

Arif scored in the 11, 12 and 39 minutes while Sohag and Masud Rana each struck twice. Sohel, Likhon and Javed added one each while Netrokona's miseries were extended by Gautam's own goal.

Ishant asked not to take 'advices'

PTI, New Delhi

Ishant Sharma probably cannot do anything wrong but success has far too many fathers and the beanpole Delhi speedster should be wary of unwanted advices, said eminent bowling coach TA Sekar.

Sekar, chief coach at the MRI Pace foundation was effusive in his praise of Ishant and hoped that the lanky pacer doesn't get swayed by suggestions from all quarters.

"He is an exciting bowler and the hot property of the Indian cricket. But in our country success has too many fathers and he will find a lot of people offering their pieces of advice.

"He will find a number of coaches claiming credit for his success. Ishant needs to be careful he has to take only those that suit him and ignore the rest," the former paceman said Sekar felt job of a coach is limited in a team.

"A good team makes a good coach and not vice-versa. A coach has a minor role to play but the media here tends to exaggerate his importance." Sekar believes young pacers like Pradeep Sangwan and Vijaykumar Yo Mahesh have it in them to be India's future pace battery.

"Sangwan is just 18, he is sharp and brings the bowl into the righthander. Besides, he is quite intelligent too and these are the three qualities you look for in a promising bowler. "Yo Mahesh is also a good prospect, he is 20-year-old and has good speed. He can bat a bit as well," Sekar said. Sekar has been roped in to look

Juventus and Benfica have all been defeated in Champions League matches at Celtic Park in recent seasons. And the last time Celtic and Barcelona met in the knock-out stage of a competition it was the Scottish side who triumphed, winning 1-0 in Glasgow and drawing 0-0 at the Nou Camp in the fourth round of the UEFA Cup.

In Barcelona's run to this stage of the competition they played Rangers in group E, drawing 0-0 at Ibrox and winning 2-0 at home.

The Catalan side's Argentinian superstar Lionel Messi was not impressed with the Ibrox team's style, labelling it "anti-football" but Barca boss Rijkaard does not expect similar tactics from Celtic.

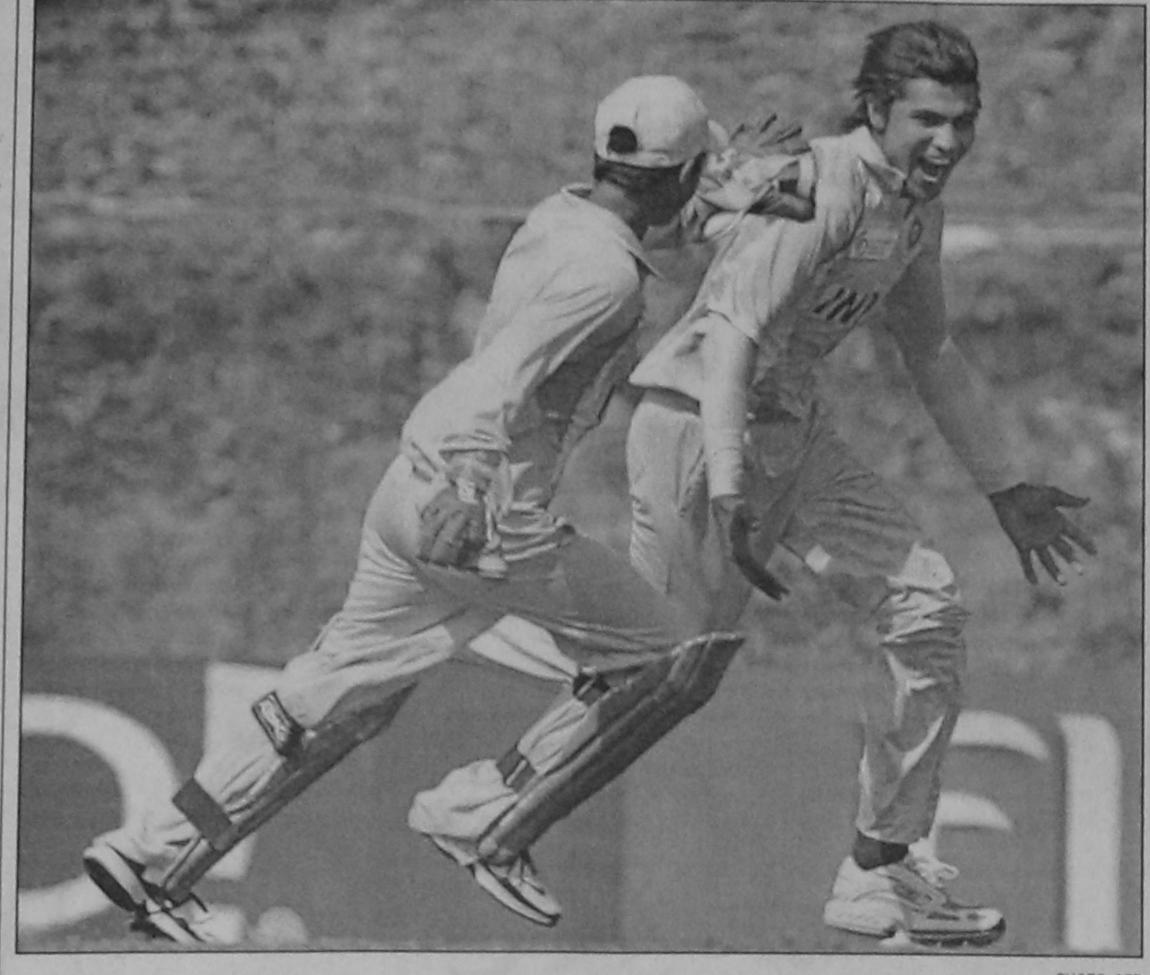

He said: "Celtic stands for a football culture and a way of playing that is not common in Britain. They place the emphasis on attack, like Arsenal and Manchester United.

"I think it will be a nice match, although that complicates things forme.

"We cannot afford to make a mistake as we know Celtic are capable of surprising us and securing a good result to take into the secondleg."

Celtic will be without midfielder Scott Brown, who is suspended for the first leg, and German rightback Andreas Hinkel is cup-tied after moving from Seville in
