Career Opportunity: Consultant needed

World Vision - an International humanitarian organization working in Bangladesh needs Economic Development Consultant for its national programs initially for a period of one year. This is a Strategic role and the consultant will be based in the National office -Dhaka.

The consultant would focus on the Economic Development strategy of World Vision, review and redesign its components and recommend appropriate interventions in development/livelihoods, food security, and Micro enterprise development-access to markets, technology, know-how and information.

The key function would be to assist the management in ensuring that the Economic Development/ livelihoods initiatives move away from handouts and distributions and build on empowering people and community based organizations to improve their livelihoods. The consultant would work at a strategic level to develop CBO models by integrating pre- micro finance and non-financial service in all the field programs.

In addition, the role involves working with the other sectors within the organization to facilitate greater integration across programs and to ensure the cross cutting issues of gender, HIV/AIDS and Disaster Risk Reduction (DRR) are mainstreamed into ongoing and future economic development/livelihoods programs.

- The consultant is also expected to
- Develop guidelines, processes, systems and standards for economic/livelihood programs, and proposals to international donors for funding.
 - Establish systems to design implement and administer a reporting and documentation monitoring and evaluation of program activities to ensure compliance to standards, impact assessment, lessons learned, best practices and recommend follow-on activities to senior management.
 - Initiate and assist producer groups, Community based organizations in strengthening their position in local market chains and conduct value chain analysis for access to markets for the project communities.
 - Develop the technical capacity of program staff on Economic Development
 - Develop systems for national level network and build meaningful relationships with UN, INGOs, NGOs, Government, Donors and other agencies in the related field for program alliance, sharing and tapping of resources.

The Consultant must be a Post graduate in Business / Economic Development with at least eight to ten years of experience in implementing/ consulting on community-based job creation and economic development/livelihood programs with Business Development Services and Micro Enterprise development components. He/ she should have good understanding of development principles and methodologies. He/she should have excellent communication skills. Experience of dealing and negotiating with the Govt. and Multi-lateral Agencies and skills in project design, budget preparation, evaluation and report writing is preferable.
