Fujitsu FMV F-A50

THE iMac has spawned a couple of lookalikes in the past, but none quite so similar to it as Fujitsu's new FMV F-A50. The screen of the F-A50 is a 16-inch 1366 x 768 pixel widescreen, and inside there's a Core 2 Duo running at 2.1GHz, with 2GB of RAM and an Intel x3100 graphics unit. It runs Vista Home Premium SP1. There's also a 250GB SATA drive, DVD recorder drive, wi-fi, Bluetooth, a type-2 PC card slot, and an SD card slot. These last hide beneath a flap, along with some of the USB ports. It's available in Japan soon for around $1,260 (BDT 88, 200).

Computer Repairs

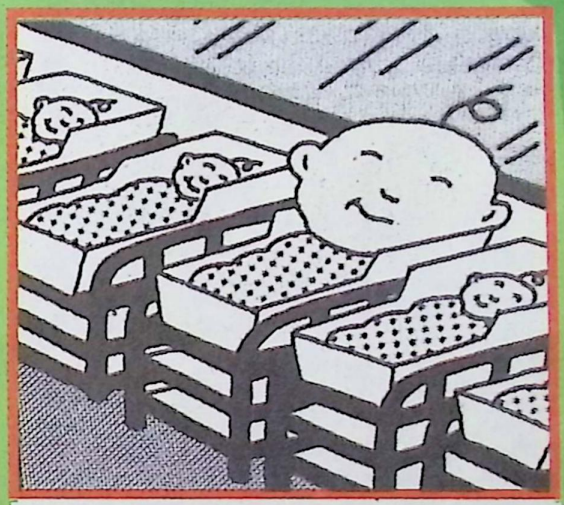

"When I'm away from my desk it goes into sleep mode...but the snoring annoys my coworkers!"

Source: www.glasbergen.com

Compiled by Mahdin Mahboob

O & A Level
@ Gateway
for whom?

From the day she was born, Sabah's parents knew she'd do well in school.

For the intelligent and the not so intelligent.

Gateway

ISO 9001 Certified Institution

Locations : LALMATIA • BANANI
BAILY RD • MIRPUR • UTTARA

Helpline : 01713480980
01713480915, 01713480918