

'Developed nations responsible for carbon emission'

DU CORRESPONDENT
Speakers at a seminar yesterday said industrialist countries are mostly responsible for emitting carbon into the environment which is creating the world warmer.

Carbon Economy" on the occasion of the World Environment Day at Dhaka University (DU).
The seminar was organised by the Department of Geography and Environment in association with Oxfam-GB, Bangladesh.
To observe the, teachers and students of the department in the morning took out a colourful procession, led by DU Vice-Chancellor Prof SMA Faiz, that paraded different streets of the campus.

Prof SMA Faiz addressed the session as the chief guest while Prof Tasmer SA Islam and Disaster Risk Reduction and Rural Livelihoods Programme Manager Farid Hasan Ahmed and Prof AQM Mahub also took part in it.

Prof Mahub, also the chairman of the department, said the developed countries, especially the big industrialised nations, are mostly responsible for emitting carbon into the atmosphere and changing the global climate.

nuclear energy and bio-fuel, using renewable energy like hydro, solar, wind, wave and bio-fuel, conserving forest and planting more trees, using surface water and changing lifestyles and habits.
Prof Faiz stressed the need for creating awareness as well as taking preparedness to fight various impacts of climate change and to curb carbon emission into the atmosphere.

38000 litres of diesel seized, 3 held

STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Bogra
Dhanupazila administration seized a huge quantity of diesel from Gossambari Bazar for illegal selling on Wednesday.
Abdullah Haroon, upazila Nirbahi Officer, told this correspondent over cell phone yesterday that more than 38000 litres of diesel were seized from three local unauthorised fuel dealers for illegal hoarding and selling in the area.

Mohammad Rabin and Mohammad Raihan admitted that they have been selling diesel along with another dealer Mannan without any license since last 15 years.
They claimed that the diesel was purchased from M/S Ruhul Amin of Bagabari in Sirajganj district recently.

Local people complained that at least 56000 litres of diesel have been stockpiled in the bazar for selling at higher price.
Officer-in-charge of Dhanup Police Station Abdul Hakim said a case has been filed under special act against the unauthorised fuel dealers for black marketing.
