Ululating through the Streets of Dhaka

PHOTOS: ZAHEDUL I KHAN

Life in Dhaka is stressful. Heat, traffic jams, price spiralling and various other factors bog down on people's everyday lives. Two of the biggest back-to-back religious festivities of the country were the perfect break everyone needed to get their spirits up. Puja this year was huge and colourful. According to a government report, there were 22,000 Puja mandaps throughout the country this year. Hindus began the five-day long festival to mark goddess

