chopped down to connect the under-construction road to the road opposite the Election Commission.

An official of the Army Engineering Corps, the implementing body of the road, said they have got rid of the trees as those fell inside the road's alignment.

"The road is a crying need for the city. We cut the trees for the sake of road construction and in the greater interest of the city dwellers," he said, adding that they are scheduled to finish the construction work by the end of this year. He said they are hopeful of finishing the job ahead of time, before December.

According to the plan, the pavement on the eastern part of Rokeya Sarani will separate the new road and Rokeya Sarani.

The aim of the new road is to ease traffic congestion in the city. It begins from Agargaon and ends at the relief depot, which is across the street from the Chief Adviser's Office.

Demarcation and digging work of the new road has already been done and the authorities are raising a wall along the runway of the Old Airport.

Once it is opened to public, traffic pressure on roads between Mohakhali and Farmgate will reduce, said LGRD ministry sources.

"People of Mirpur, Shyamoli, Kalyanpur and Mohammadpur areas will be able to save at least 20 minutes using the new road to go to Mohakhali, Gulshan, Zia International Airport and Uttara.

At present, they have to use Bijoy Sarani which remains clogged during rush hours.

The 2.6-kilometre-long and 18.5-metre-wide road is being built with the help of the army and Dhaka City Corporation (DCC) at a cost of Tk 24.92 crore.
