Gulshan Hossain Art Exhibition & Seminar at Jahangirnagar University

Farhat Tasannum Farah

THE Department of English, Jahangirnagar University organised a multimedia show of the prints of Gulshan Hossain on November 2. The artist used mixed medium of photography and painting to translate her emotions of the rape victims of 1971. The presentation, entitled Gulshan Hossain 1971, was followed by an informative discussion made by noted art critic Sadek Khan.

Held at the proposed seminar room of the English Department, the multimedia show drew a huge crowd. Gulshan Hossain is a promising artist who had made her presence felt in the art arena in the last couple of decades. She has exhibited her works in various solo and group exhibitions.

Gulshan Hossain is known mostly for her water based and acrylic paintings. She, however, has moved onto incorporate print-making as part of new project.

One of the questions that came up in the discussion involved the age-old battle between creativity and training. Both the artist and the critic believed that formal training can supplement creativity. However, it was also observed that institutional support and infrastructure are not always essential for the artist and her creation.

The Chair of the Dept. Dr. Shamsad Mortuza gave the vote-of-thanks. Prof. Abu Taher Mojumdar, Prof. Dr. Afzal Hossain, Associate Professor Mohammad Rafiq, Mr. Ahmed Reza and others attended the programme.
