

As a university its achievement was being able to keep itself fully free from political violence and session jam to uphold the spirit of maintaining a good academic atmosphere. The teachers and students here have a very congenial relationship amongst them. As a result the academic activities here are also very active and administration is free of corruption. The achievement of a university partially depends on how its students contribute to the country. In this light it can be said their functionality and low cost. In the educational sector of Bangladesh KUET is believed to have played a vital role. In Bangladesh the technical education grading system was first introduced in KUET in 1987.

that KUET is one of the most successful universities in the country. Graduates from KUET work all around the country and abroad in many renowned companies. Many engineers from this university have internationally recognized papers and many of these thesis papers are actually of very high quality. Many student projects from this university have earned fame for their functionality and low cost.

In the educational sector of Bangladesh KUET is believed to have played a vital role.

