He said his party had demanded 15 to 20 seats from the AL-led alliance but it did not respond.

"We gave the names of our 53 potential candidates to Awami League hoping that the final list would be prepared through discussion with the grand alliance leaders. Although date for holding talks on seat-sharing with Awami League leaders had been fixed several times, the meeting was not held," the LDP chief said referring to the reasons for his party's contesting the polls independently.

appeal with the SC against the HC verdict within the time period.

The SC order came on December 8 upon a provisional leave to appeal filed by Khoka for staying the HC verdict.

Khoka's counsel barrister Rafique-ul-Huq told The Daily Star that following the Supreme Court order there was no legal bar to contesting the December 29 parliamentary election by Khoka.

On December 4, the HC bench of Justice Tariq ul-Hakim and Justice Farah Mahbub upon a writ petition filed by Khoka upheld the Election Commission's (EC) decision, banning city corporation mayors from contesting the parliamentary election.

The court also dismissed the writ petition challenging the EC's decision.

The EC on November 17 decided that mayors are not qualified to contest the national election since they hold office of profit.
