EC gears up for election series

SHAKHAWAT LITON

The Election Commission (EC) plans to hold the long over due Dhaka City Corporation (DCC) polls in March this year, launching a series of local government elections across the country.

Following the DCC polls, the EC plans to hold elections to over 300 municipalities, and then the long over due polls to over 4,500 union parishads.

According to the EC's projection, 2009 will also be a year of ballots, the process of which has already begun with the scheduling of upazila parishad elections for January 22.

Talking to reporters in his office yesterday, Election Commissioner Brig Gen (ret'd) M Sakhawat Hossain said the commission is now busy preparing for the long over due polls to 481 upazila parishads.

He said the voter list for DCC area will start getting updated by the end of this month for the election in March.

The last DCC election was held in early 2002 and the current city administration's five-year tenure expired long ago, but new polls to the city corporation could not be held on time due to an absence of a correct voter list, and the existence of a state of emergency -- allowing the incumbent mayor and councillors to continue in the offices.

Similarly, the tenure of over 4,500 union parishads also expired between January and March last year, and according to the electoral law, elections to those were supposed to be held within 180 days of the tenure expiry.

About the union parishad polls, Election Commissioner Sakhawat said those will be held some time this year over a period of four to five months.

Elections to around 300 municipalities might also be held before the union parishad polls.

In August last year, the EC held elections to four city corporations and nine municipalities under a state of emergency.

BY-ELECTIONS
Sakhawat also said by-elections in six parliamentary constituencies will be held in February.

According to a provision in the country's constitution, a by-election to a vacated parliamentary seat must be held within 90 days of the vacation.

Troops vow to capture Tiger supremo

AFP, Kilinochchi

Sri Lanka's army said yesterday it was moving in on the jungle stronghold of the Tamil Tiger rebels, in a final assault aimed at ending the longest-running ethnic war in Asia.

Flush with confidence after retaking their main city two days ago, the army vowed to capture rebel leader Velupillai Prabhakaran as troops pushed deeper into northern territory long under the complete control of the guerrillas.

Sri Lankan President Mahinda Rajapakse said in a New Year's address that 2009 would be the year of 'heroic'

Indian minister to take Mumbai evidence to US

Senior US diplomat to visit Pakistan

AFP, New Delhi/ Islamabad

Indian Home Minister Palaniappan Chidambaram said he would travel to Washington this week with evidence linking Pakistan to the deadly Mumbai attacks in which 163 people were killed, reports said yesterday.

Chidambaram told newspapers in New Delhi he would take "overwhelming" and "unanswerable" proof to the United States for discussions with officials there.

"The evidence leads to the conclusion that the plot was hatched in Pakistan and as the operation in Mumbai was on, it was masterminded and controlled from Pakistan," the Indian Express quoted Chidambaram as saying.

He said the "detailed dossier" included telephone transcripts, communication intercepts and interrogation reports.

The minister also challenged Pakistani President Asif Ali Zardari's claim that the 10 Mumbai gunmen were "stateless actors."

7 killed in Pak suicide blast

AFP, Peshawar

Five policemen and two civilians were killed yesterday in a suspected suicide blast in the northwestern Pakistani town of Dera Ismail Khan, a local government official said.

The explosion, which also wounded 28 people, took place on a busy road in the centre of town, district coordination officer Syed Mohsin Shah told AFP.

Police said they believed it could have been a suicide blast, and that the police were the intended target. Bomb disposal experts were combing the scene for evidence.

Shah said the police had come to the scene to investigate a tiny explosion, when their vehicle was hit in a second blast.

Development goes slow in first 3 months 20pc of revenue budget spent

REJAUL KARIM BYRON

In the first three months of the current fiscal year the government has spent more than 20 percent of the total revenue budget for the year but its performance in development expenditure is very poor.

According to the finance ministry's monthly fiscal position report, during the three months the development expenditure was only 5.4 percent of the budget. According to a report of the Implementation, Monitoring and Evaluation Department of the planning ministry, it was 18 percent during July-November.

Zaid Bakht, research director of Bangladesh Institute of Development Studies (BIDS), said there is nothing to worry about revenue expenditure's being higher than development expenditure.

The new government will have to immediately take steps to trim the size of development budget to prevent misuse and wastage of resources and increase its implementation, he said.

According to the BIDS report, the revenue expenditure in this fiscal year's budget has been set at Tk 69,081 crore and the government has spent Tk 12,913 crore in three months, which is 21.9 percent of the budget. Of this, expense on interest payment was 29.3 percent and the second highest expenditure--pay and allowance--25.3 percent.

The government had to borrow excessively--more than Tk 10,000 crore--from banking system last year while the budgetary target was Tk 7,253 crore.

Dec 29 election fair, flawless

Says 8-nation observer group

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

A 10-member foreign delegation that carried out a short-term observation of the December 29 parliamentary elections in a preliminary statement yesterday said it did not find any irregularities that might impact the legitimacy of the process or the results.

The delegation comprised of individuals from government and civil society organisations, from Australia, Canada, India, Indonesia, Japan, Mongolia, the Philippines, and the Republic of Korea, noted that the voting process appeared to be organised and calm, and election officials seemed to be generally familiar with the election laws and procedures, a press release said.

They urged the new government and all political stakeholders to work together to effectively meet the nation's challenges.
