Three-day workshop on museum documentation by UNESCO

The workshop by UNESCO emphasised on digital cataloguing of museum objects.

CULTURAL CORRESPONDENT

A three-day workshop titled, "Theoretical and Practical Aspects of Inventorying and Documentation of Museum Collection," ended at the Poet Sufia Kamal Auditorium, Bangladesh National Museum yesterday. UNESCO Dhaka Office was the organiser of the workshop.

"The workshop emphasised on digital cataloguing of museum objects," informed Swadhin Sen, Assistant Professor, Department of Archaeology, Jahangirnagar University. Sen along with Md. Ziaul Bashar, IT programming officer, Bank Al Falah, were the resource persons at the workshop.

"At present, digital cataloguing is one of the most essential components of museum management. Detailed documentation and cataloguing of the objects collected, displayed and stored at museums are usually done to safeguard and manage the valuable objects. However, in our country none of the state-run and private museums have employed this advanced technique," Sen said.

Recently a project on such detailed digital listing of relics and other objects at Dinajpur

Museum has been launched on the Web. The catalogue, first of its kind in Bangladesh, is titled "Anukramanika," and is funded by UNESCO. The catalogue can be accessed at www.unescodhaka.org.

At the three-day workshop, 19 representatives from 11 museums and institutions learned the basics of digital cataloguing. Participating organisations were Bangladesh National Museum, Department of Archaeology, Barendra Research Museum, Bangladesh National Herbarium, National Museum of Science and Technology, Liberation War Museum, Dinajpur Museum, Bhasha Andolon Museum and Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman Memorial Museum.

Noted personalities attended the inauguration of the workshop on March 16. Mohammad Humayun Kabir, joint secretary, Ministry of Cultural Affairs was the chief guest. Among others, Alam Ara Begum, director general of Bangladesh National Museum and Abdul Khaleque, director general, Department of Archaeology were also present. Malama Meleisea, UNESCO representative in Bangladesh, chaired the programme.

Sisimpur: New delights for Bangladeshi children

Who would have thought Halum, Tuktuki, Shiku and Ikri would become household names among children when they first appeared on Bangladesh television four years ago? Right now the Sisimpur family is in the studio filming a milestone fifth season of the favourite programme, says a press release.

This international award winning pre-school programme for Bangladeshi children is funded by US Government through the United States Agency for International Development (USAID). The fifth season promises many new exciting features, including some new faces Shanto and Abby.

The fifth season will feature a huge kite festival in Sisimpur's neighbouring village Bokulpur.

Then there's the new corner in the Sisimpur Library called Children's Corner. Two new interesting animation characters -- rubber and pencil will be instrumental in teaching children various reading and writing skills.

Sisimpur is telecast on BTV and BTV World on Fridays at 9:05 a.m. and re-telecast on Saturdays at 2:15 p.m. and Wednesdays and Thursdays at 4:05 p.m.

Theme park Fantasy Kingdom celebrates its 7th anniversary on March 20. To mark this joyous occasion, the management of the park has taken different initiatives including discounts on rides, concert, raffle draw and more. Fantasy Kingdom, one of the theme parks of Concord Entertainment Co. Ltd., was opened in 2002 in Ashulia.

Lucky winners of a contest organised during the last Valentines day won dinner dates with celebrities Arnob, Apurbo, Monalisa and Bindu. The organisers of the contest, hotDhaka.com and Communication-2, held a prize giving ceremony for the "Valentines Dhamaka 2009" contest recently. Over 7,000 participants from around the country entered the contest.

All programmes are in local time. The Daily Star will not be responsible for any change in the programme.
