After a blood stained, nine-month war against the Pakistani military, Bangladesh achieved independence on December 16, 1971. But, Mirpur, an important area of the capital, needed another month to be freed from the clutches of the collaborators of the Pakistani army. Mirpur remained captivated until January 31, 1972, with the non-Bengalis slaying many living in the area.

Shattwik Natya Shampraday, a Mirpur-based theatre troupe has been observing the Mirpur Free Day with a five-day programme since 2001. This year's celebration, titled "Walton Mirpur Festival 2009" began at the Studio Theatre of Bangladesh Shilpakala Academy on March 19. The festival includes staging of five plays by theatre troupes and seminars.

Nasiruddin Yousuff, president of Shattwik Natya Shampraday (SS) inaugurated the festival. Golam Kuddus, general secretary of SS; Liaquat Ali Lucky, president member, Bangladesh Group Theatre Federation (BGTF); Jhuna Chowdhury, secretary general of BGTF; Mizanur Rahman, general secretary of Bangladesh Patho Natak Parishad and others were also present at the event.

"We fought for a country free of social injustice and violence. But the politics of our country has deviated from that goal often. Our cultural activists continue playing significant roles in crucial moments of our history. Shattwik's arrangement validates this claim," Nasiruddin Yousuff said in his inaugural speech.

Speakers demanded opening an auditorium for cultural practices in Mirpur. Mirpur Town Hall auditorium was demolished, creating an impediment to holding cultural programmes in the area.

The inauguration was followed by staging of the play "Kusum Upakhyan," a Shattwik Natya Shampraday production. A sequel to the play "Kusum Bettanto" by the troupe, "Kusum Upakhyan" was written by poet and playwright Kazi Rosy. Sagir Mostofa is the director of the play.

In the play a fairytale unfolds where Kusum, a beautiful and gifted village belle draws the attention of the benevolent King of Shantipur. At a crucial point of his kingship, when the subjects are leaving the land, the king decides to take Kusum as his queen. But the rogue prince and his attendants are determined to drive Kusum away from the palace. One moonlit night, Kusum, along with her newborn son, is forced to leave her home. Kusum sets out for the unknown.

Kashim, Saiful, Anisur Rahman Selim, Matiar Sumon and Asaduzzaman Swapnan played the central roles.

The festival will continue till March 23. It should be noted that Shattwik Natya Shampraday is the first to stage plays at the Studio Theatre, BSA -- "a laudable initiative" as the guests put it.

Theatre Lecture Hall in Chittagong inaugurated

STAFF CORRESPONDENT, Chittagong

Chittagong has often paved the way for many things visionary and it happened again with the opening of the country's first Theatre Lecture Hall here with a view to practice and experiment with new forms of the medium.

Inaugural of the Lecture Hall at the Theatre Institute of Chittagong (TIC) was held last Thursday afternoon.

Theatre personality Ramendu Majumdar was the chief guest at the ceremony with TIC Chairman and Chittagong City Corporation Mayor A.B.M. Mohiuddin Chowdhury in the chair.

Noted litterateur Syed Shamsul Haque and theatre personality Mahub Hasan were special guests at the event.

In his speech, Ramendu Majumdar said that theatre is an effective medium for raising social awareness. "Theatre can address the discrepancies as well as the achievements within a society," he said.

He also thanked the Chittagong Mayor for his contribution in setting up the institute.

Termed Chittagong as "a progressive region in the practice of art and culture," Syed Shamsul Haque recalled that there was a plan for setting up a film city here prior to the independence of Bangladesh.

Earlier a photography exhibition -- on stage plays -- at the TIC Gallery was inaugurated by Mahub Hasan.

Forty photographs by four Chittagong-based photographers highlighted scenes from plays staged by local groups as well as troupes from across the country. Of them, Morshed Himadri is a freelance photographer while Zobaer Hossain Sikder, Rajesh Chakrabarty and Anurup Titu work at different dailies. Shots of "Gaan-er Pakhi" (a Fulki presentation) by Zobaer Hossain Sikder, "Sampan Naiya" (an Uttaradhikar production) by Rajesh Chakrabarty, "Rupoboti" (a Subachan production) by Morshed Himadri and "Min Konya" (a BITA production) by Anurup Titu deserve special mention.

Before the discussion at the inaugural, a programme featuring Baul songs was held at TIC premises. Hammadur Rahman and Apu Barman performed at the programme. Students of TIC performed regional songs of Chittagong.

Later Syed Shamsul Haque gave a lecture on "Theatre: Kolpo O Bikolpo" at the newly opened Lecture Hall.
