LATEST TREATMENT FOR PSYCHIATRIC & NEUROLOGICAL DISORDERS - REPETITIVE TRANSCRANIAL MAGNETIC STIMULATION (rTMS)
Dr. Sanjay Chugh, a New Delhi based Neuropsychiatrist, has introduced rTMS in clinical practice in India after training at the HARVARD MEDICAL SCHOOL (HMS) & MEDICAL UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH CAROLINA. Dr. Chugh's institute in India is a part of the HARVARD GLOBAL CLINICAL TRIALS NETWORK for rTMS. This treatment is possibly the most important advance in the field of neuropsychiatry in the last 50 years & is approved by the FDA in USA.
rTMS can selectively modulate or change activity in small areas of the brain. This elicits certain desired effects, both excitatory and inhibitory, that can treat various disorders. The magnetic field is generated through a hand held, figure-of-8 coil placed over the head.
A very safe procedure, rTMS has been used as a treatment for Psychiatric disorders like Depression, Schizophrenia, Bipolar Disorder, Addictions, Anxiety, Posttraumatic Stress Disorder, Obsessive-Compulsive Disorder, Panic Disorder, Phobias, ADHD and Eating Disorders. The Neurological indications for rTMS are Migraine, Stroke Rehabilitation, Parkinsonism, Trigeminal Neuralgia, Multiple Sclerosis, Medicine resistant Epilepsy, Tinnitus, Autism, Tourette's Syndrome, Fibromyalgia and Chronic Pain. In Ophthalmology, rTMS has proven useful in Lazy Eye or Amblyopia.
Giving some details, Dr. Chugh says that up to 30% of cases of Depression are treatment resistant & become chronic. It is in these cases that rTMS presents the possibility for greatest benefit. Some have called TMS a "life saver."
Most patients with schizophrenia experience auditory hallucinations. With rTMS, a majority of patients showed significant reduction in their voices. Negative symptoms such as lack of energy, lack of motivation, lack of interest & pleasure and lack of happiness are typically seen in Chronic Schizophrenia. These respond poorly to medicines but rTMS has proven to be effective in decreasing these manifestations.
In OCD, rTMS brings about a reduction in Obsessive thoughts and Compulsive behaviour. In Tourette's disorder also, significant reduction has been seen in the various symptoms. The same is seen with other anxiety disorders such as Panic Disorder, Phobias & Post Traumatic Stress Disorder.
Stroke victims regained motor performance and accuracy more readily when the motor cortex of the brain was magnetically stimulated with rTMS. Movements are seen to be produced in paralysed limbs several years after the stroke took place. In Parkinsonism, rTMS appears to have a cumulative benefit for improving gait, as well as reducing upper limb slowness. Speech is also improved with this treatment.
In Multiple Sclerosis, changes are seen in spasticity & in urinary tract dysfunction. In Migraine, rTMS plays an important preventive role and also decreases the frequency & severity of the headaches. rTMS is also used as a treatment for treatment resistant Epilepsy.
The treatment runs over 30 to 40 sessions of 20 minutes each, given once or twice daily. rTMS can be given along with any other medications that the patient is already taking. Once improvement starts, the requirement for medicines starts to come down, decreasing the side effects produced by medicines & improving the compliance.
rTMS is a very safe procedure and is generally free from side effects when proper procedures are followed. For further details about all these modalities, contact Dr. Chugh's clinic in New Delhi on +91-981079401/ +91-11-41436012 / +91-11-29219746.
