Marking Independence Day with special programmes

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Pabna

Pabna Shammilito Shangshkritik Jote, Pabna Drama Circle, Annoda Gobinda Public Library, Ekushey Book Fair Celebration Committee and the local Shilpakala Academy held programmes in Pabna to celebrate Independence Day. The day (March 26) began with laying wreathes at the Duroy Pabna Liberation War Memorial -- a homage to the martyrs of the Liberation War.

Shammilito Shangshkritik Jote held a cultural programme at the local Shaheed Minar premises. Artists of Ganoshilpi Shangshtha, Udichi Shilpi Goshthi and Jhankar Shilpi Goshthi performed patriotic songs.

A discussion and cultural programme was held at the Pabna Annoda Gobinda Public Library premises. Vice president of the library, Rabiul Islam, chaired the discussion. State minister for Power, Energy, and Mineral Resources, Advocate Samsul Haque Tuku was the chief guest.

Seasoned politician and former MP, Advocate Amjad Hossain; secretary of the library, Abdul Matin Khan and former principal of Pabna Govt. Bulbul College, Professor Shibojit Nag, among others, participated in the discussion. Speakers warned that conspiracy against the sovereignty of Bangladesh is still on and urged all to uphold the values of Liberation War.

Pabna Drama Circle held a candlelight vigil at Doyel Chatter intersection in the city. Cultural activists formed a human chain at the venue and demanded trial of war criminals.

Kawsar and organising secretary, Mostafizur Rahman Rassel, among others, spoke at the programme.

Various socio-cultural organisations also observed the day with special programmes.

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Barisal

A three-day programme to mark the 38th Independence Day in a befitting manner started in Barisal last Tuesday evening with call for immediate trial and punishment of the war criminals.

Barisal Shangshkritik Shangothan Shamannay Parishad (BSSSP), an alliance of 26 major cultural organisations of the city, arranged the programme at the local Shaheed Minar. The programme included discussions, recitation, music, dance, plays and more.

The inauguration session was presided over by Shanti Das. Among others, Jibon Krishna Dey, Kajol Ghosh, Jaglul Haider Shaheen and Syed Dulal spoke on the occasion.

BSSSP also brought out a procession starting from the Shaheed Minar on March 26 eve in remembrance of the martyrs.

Dennis Quaid and Julianne Moore to play Bill and Hillary Clinton

The last time Dennis Quaid and Julianne Moore worked together he played her unfaithful husband in "Far From Heaven." Now they are to reunite as two sides of the most famous triangle in political history -- President Bill Clinton and now Secretary of State Hillary Rodham Clinton in the upcoming film "A Special Relationship."

The biopic will mark the directorial debut of Peter Morgan who will be working from his own script. While the focus of the film will be on the relationship between the Clintons and their UK counterparts -- Tony Blair and his wife Cherie Booth -- in the late 1990s, it will address the president's indiscretion with Monica Lewinsky.

For Morgan, this is the third and final chapter in a trilogy that began with "The Deal" in 2003. That telefilm detailed discussions between one-time friends and political rivals Tony Blair and Gordon Brown that resulted in the former assuming the leadership of the Labor Party while the latter bided his time for well over a decade before becoming Prime Minister. Michael Sheen earned raves for his portrayal of Blair and "The Deal" on the 2004 BAFTA TV award for single drama.

In 2006 Morgan decided to shed light on the dark days following the 1997 death of the Princess of Wales in "The Queen." That project, which also began as a Granada TV production, ended up as a theatrical release, and earned six Oscar nominations. Among those was a best picture nod as well as one for Peter Morgan's original screenplay. He lost to Michael Arndt for "Little Miss Sunshine." As the title character, Helen Mirren was crowned lead actress.

Michael Sheen reprised his 1998's "Primary Colors" (and played so well by John Travolta and Emma Thompson), this will be the first depiction of the former first couple on-screen.

And the twosome who are to play them are certainly among the brightest talents in Hollywood. While Julianne Moore won a slew of critical awards and earned her fourth role as Blair in "The Queen" and will be returning once more for "A Special Relationship." And Helen McCrory will again appear as Booth. Lewinsky will be seen only via archival news clips. While the start and release dates have not been determined, this project is sure to attract much attention. Excepting the fictionalised version of the Clintons seen in Oscar nomination for "Far From Heaven," she lost that race by a false nose to Nicole Kidman, her co-star from "The Hours." Surprisingly Dennis Quaid was snubbed by the academy despite winning the supporting actor prize with the Gotham film critics and landing Golden Globe and SAG nods.
