NOBEL laureate Prof Mohammad Yunus stressed the need for development of technology, especially information technology (IT), for overall progress of the country.

"Only the development of technology can change the fate of the nation as it has brought about dramatic change in the whole world," he said while speaking at a reunion of Bangladesh University of Engineering and Technology Alumni Association (BUETAA) as chief guest. Organized by BUETAA, the reunion-2009 of the Association, sponsored by the Grameen Phone, was held at the playground of the university.
