

FALLOUT OF TOXIC GAS FROM ZFCL

Ammonia-hit villagers' demand unheeded

SHEIKH MD SHAHIDUL ISLAM,
Brahmanbaria

Pollution by ammonia gas emitted from the factory of Ashuganj Zia Fertilizer Company Limited (ZFCL) in the district is causing respiratory and skin diseases to the surrounding villagers and affecting environment and ecology in the area.

On last Sunday, local people again gathered at the factory gate to press the authorities to take urgent step to stop the pollution as large-scale pollution during the last several days left at least 300 people affected with respiratory diseases.

The ammonia pollution is also badly affecting plants, trees, crops, animals, poultry and cattle in the areas around the factory.

The worst affected villages are Char Chartala, Sharifpur, Shariatnagar, Panchbhitha, Madhupur and Lalpur under Ashuganj upazila.

"Sometimes it seems I will die of suffocation caused by ammonia gas," said Md Kuddus Mia of Char Chartala.

Rokeya Begum, who is suffering from sores in between the gaps of her fingers and toes for two years, said, "When I stay at a far away village for some days, my painful disease gets cured."

Murad Mia, Rumena Begum and Kuhnior Begum have told similar tales.

Children, elderly people and asthma patients are the worst sufferers of the ammonia pollution.

Chartala UP ward member Md Zakir Hossain said they have repeatedly urged the authorities to take urgent steps to solve the problem, but to no effect.

The medical officer (MO) of Civil Surgeon Office of Brahmanbaria, Dr Md Shawkat Hossain said spread of ammonia leads to air pollution and water pollution that may cause skin disease, respiratory problems and other long-term complexities.

"Ammonia pollution causes chest and skin diseases. It also causes genetic problem and affects the breeding organs of animal as a long-term consequence," said Dr AKM Shaheduzzaman, medicine and chest specialist at Brahmanbaria Sadar Hospital.

On several occasions, victim villagers gathered at the main gate of Ashuganj ZFCL to press the authorities to look into their problems.

Emission of ammonia from the factory has become a regular feature as the system of controlling evaporation from ammonia tank remained out of order for long, said ZFCL sources seeking anonymity.

When the plant is over-heated, ammonia from the tank starts coming out, they said.

At a negotiation meeting with ZFCL authorities, victim villagers and local elite on March 23, Ashuganj Upazila Nirbahi Officer (UNO) Md Rezaul Maksud Zahedi urged the authorities to arrange a regular compensation and rehabilitation for the victim families and take proper step for permanent solution to ammonia pollution problem.

When contacted, ZFCL Managing Director (MD) Md Osman Gani said they are trying to minimise the pollution by spraying water on the outlet of the tank that emits ammonia.

"When any mechanical fault develops, ammonia emission occurs largely. We are going to take steps soon to get a hundred percent control," he added.

CUT IN ALLOWANCE

Vet instt interns lock dean office

OUR CORRESPONDENT,
Barisal

Interns of Barisal Veterinary Institute yesterday morning locked the Dean and administrative offices of the institute and besieged their teachers protesting cut in internship allowance, campus sources said.

Initially, the allowance was Tk 6,800 per month for each of its 39 interns but it was cut down to 2,500 last month after the institute was turned into a faculty of Patuakhali Science and Technology University (PSTU).

The interns started agitation on Rahamatpur campus in Babuganj upazila on February 12 protesting the decision.

Contacted, AKM Mustafa Zaman, Dean-in-Charge of the Faculty of Veterinary Science and Medicine, said previously the institute was under the ministry of fisheries and livestock.

As the University Grants Commission (UGC) is yet to disburse funds for internship allowance the PSTU is giving Tk 2,500 to each intern from its own fund. The UGC will soon refix the internship allowance, the dean said.

RANGPUR WAR CRIMES IN 1971

Punishment to Al-Badr leader demanded

OUR CORRESPONDENT,
Rangpur

Leaders of different political and cultural bodies in Rangpur demanded punishment to a local Jamaat leader for his alleged war crimes in 1971.

They said the then Al-Badr Commander A T M Azharul Islam should be tried for killing scores of innocent people during the war of liberation in 1971.

The leaders raised the demand at rallies yesterday at Rangpur Shaheed Minar and Lahiriha killing ground held in observance of Rangpur Cantonment Attack Day.

The speakers said Assistant Secretary General of Jamaat-e-Islami Azharul, who led Al-Badr in Rangpur, also killed a number of local freedom fighters and intellectuals.

Freedom Fighter Rafiqul Islam Golap alleged that

Azharul presided a meeting of infamous Al-Badr on August 17 in 1971 in Rangpur where its members vowed to kill freedom fighters and intellectuals of the district.

Secretary of Sammito Sangskritik Jote of Rangpur Shawkat Hossain Ranga said Azharul was directly involved in the killing of many freedom fighters.

Ranga claimed that Azharul led the killing of six teachers and wife of a teacher of Rangpur Carmichael College in the first week of September in 1971.

Awami League leader and freedom fighter Tipu Munshi MP said the government has taken the war crime issue seriously. Munshi hoped that the government would put Azharul and other war criminals under trial this time as people are now strongly united on this issue.

35 hurt as AL, BNP clash in Sirajganj

OUR CORRESPONDENT,
Sirajganj

At least 35 people were injured, three of them seriously, in a clash between the activists of Awami League and BNP at Shahzadpur upazila headquarters yesterday.

Witnesses said both sides used lethal weapons and hurled brickbats at each other during the clash that continued for one and a half hours.

Police charged batons on the clashing groups and fired tear gas shells to bring the situation under control. Upazila offices of both the parties were also damaged during the clash.

Local units of the ruling and opposition parties blamed each other for the incident.

AL leaders said the trouble began at around 2:30 pm as some BNP men assaulted an activist of Swachhsebok League in the town.

BNP leaders alleged that AL activists first made an attack on its activist at a tea stall.

The injured were admitted to Sirajganj Sadar Hospital, Shahzadpur Upazila Health Complex and local clinics.
