

Wall Street upbeat

AFP, New York

Amid growing signs of an easing of the economic crisis, Wall Street has managed to keep a mostly sunny outlook even though a six-week rally came to a halt.

After a heavy week of earnings reports prompted some turbulence, the market will focus on economic news and the outlook for the auto sector with two of the Big Three manufacturers on the ropes.

In the week to Friday, the Dow Jones Industrial Average of blue chips fell 0.68 percent and the Standard & Poor's 500 broad-market index dipped 0.39 percent.

This ended a six-week rally that analysts said had been the best since 1938.

The tech-heavy Nasdaq however extended its gains to a seventh week, rising 1.27 percent to 1,694.29, its best level since last November.

Ali Reza Iftekhar, managing director of Eastern Bank Ltd, speaks at a get-together organised by the bank for its women entrepreneur clients in Dhaka recently.
