Tanvir Mokammel to join
Asian Leadership Fellow
Programme

A scene from "Lalon," one of Tanvir Mokammel's films to be screened in Japan.

PALLAB BHATTACHARYA, New Delhi

It's another first for a Bangladeshi filmmaker. After attending the Morocco International Film Festival as a member of the jury recently, Tanvir Mokammel is leaving Dhaka on September 10 on a two-month trip to Japan as part of the Asian Leadership Fellow Programme at the invitation of Japan Foundation, an outfit of the Japanese Foreign Ministry. This is the first time a Bangladeshi filmmaker has received such an invitation.

During his stay in Japan, special screenings of Mokammel's three films "Lalon," "The Unknown Bird" and "The Teardrops of Karnaphuli" will be held. Besides, Bangladeshis in Tokyo are also planning to hold a retrospective of Mokammel's films during his stay in the country.

Mokammel will also meet renowned Japanese director Nagisa Oshima who has made two documentary films on the Liberation War of Bangladesh.

As the aim of the programme is to introduce the future Asian leaders to different aspects of Japanese culture, Mokammel will watch performances of traditional Japanese Noh and Kabuki theatres and meet some Hiku poets. He will also speak at some universities and research centres.

Mokammel, who was in Khulna last week to give lecture at a film appreciation course, is excited about this forthcoming visit to the Land of the Rising Sun and hopes it will be rewarding in terms of enriching his experience as a filmmaker and his interest in other areas of culture.

Noel Gallagher quitting
Oasis

Noel Gallagher has announced he is quitting rock band Oasis because he can no longer work with his brother Liam.

Noel, the group's lead guitarist, made the statement on the band's website. He said a series of rows with his brother led to the decision.

The guitarist said: "It's with some sadness and great relief to tell you that I quit Oasis tonight (August 28).

"People will write and say what they like, but I simply could not go on working with Liam a day longer."

"Apologies to all the people who bought tickets for the shows in Paris, Konstanz and Milan," he added.

Earlier it was announced the band had cancelled their second gig in the space of a week because of "an altercation within the band".

They had been expected to play the Rock en Seine festival in Paris, but fans at the concert were told by the support band that Oasis would not be performing.

Many of the crowd thought it was a joke -- until screens at either side of the stage showed the message "as a result of an altercation within the band, the Oasis gig has been cancelled".

Hamish McBain, from music magazine New Musical Express, said despite a long history of falling out between the two brothers, this split has an air of finality.

He told the BBC: "The relationship between Noel and Liam has been frosty over the last tour, to say the least, but it's been frosty before.

"Noel has left tours before, Liam's not showed up for gigs before, and they've carried on. But this, certainly the way Noel's presented it on the Oasis website, it does feel like it has a degree of finality to it."

Oasis formed in Manchester in 1991, but were originally known as The Rain.

The group was formed by Liam Gallagher (vocals and tambourine), Paul Arthurs (guitar), Paul McGuigan (bass guitar) and Tony McCarroll (drums, percussion), but were soon joined by Liam's older brother Noel Gallagher (lead guitar and vocals).

According to the Belfast Telegraph, by June 2009 Oasis had sold more than 50 million records worldwide.

They have had eight UK number-one singles and have amassed 15 NME Awards, five BRIT Awards, nine Q Awards and four MTV Europe Music Awards.

In February 2007, Oasis received the BRIT Award for outstanding contribution to music.

The Gallagher brothers have featured regularly in tabloid newspapers for their sibling disputes, wild lifestyles and highly-public feud with rival Britpop band Blur. The final line-up consisted of guitarist Gem Archer and bassist Andy Bell, as well as unofficial drummer Chris Sharrock.

Gazir Pat being promoted by NCC Bank

NCC Bank Ltd has taken up an initiative to rekindle interest in Gazir Pat and Gazir Gaan, through commercials for the bank's new product "mBridge", produced to communicate with the masses, says a press release.

"mBridge" is a foreign remittance payment card, the first of its kind facilitating inward remittance faster, automated and hassle free.

Gazir Pat and Gaan are part of a longstanding tradition of our folk heritage, dating back to the 7th century. Various episodes from the life of Gazi Pir are depicted on the pat and the story is narrated through Gazir Gaan. However, this tradition is slowly losing ground. Nowadays it is hard to find the pat and the melody of Gazir Gaan. Some pat are preserved in Ashutosh

Museum (Kolkata), Gurusaday Dutt Sangraha (Kolkata), Lokoshilpa Museum of Sonargaon (Narayanganj) and Bangla Academy (Dhaka).

NCC Bank is proud to promote this heritage of our country considering it as a corporate social responsibility. BBDO Bangladesh has conceptualised and supervised the commercial, while Mahmudul Islam of Kino Films has directed it. A total of 783 hand painted illustrations by eminent Patua Raghunath Chakraborty were used to complete the commercial. Musician Limon and singer Sumi teamed up to conjure the magic of Gazir Gaan. The commercial is being aired on different TV channels.

The commercial of NCC Bank Ltd features and promotes Gazir Pat.
