Professor Zia Hyder's first death anniversary observed in Pabna

AHMED HUMAYUN KABIR TOPU, Pabna

The first death anniversary of renowned dramatist, director and teacher Professor Zia Hyder was observed in Pabna last Wednesday. A daylong programme was arranged by the family of Hyder. Reciting from the Holy Quran, special prayers at Hyder's grave and a milad were held on September 2. Family members, friends, well-wishers and a cross section of the people attended the programme.

Zia Hyder's siblings -- Rashid, Makid, Arif Hyder and others, dignitaries of the district and cultural activists attended the milad in honour of the late theatre icon.

Zia Hyder was the founder president of theatre troupe Nagorik Natya Sampraday, and made remarkable contribution to the neo-theatre movement in Bangladesh. Nagorik Natya Sampraday was formed under his initiative in 1968. He was the troupe's president until September 1982.

Professor Hyder is also renowned for his books on theatre, such as 'Theatre-er Katha' (a series on the history of world theatre), Stanislavski-er Abhinoytatwa and 'Natyakala-e Bibhinya Ism O Epic Theatre'. Most of these publications are used as references in theatre courses at the public universities. Professor Hyder was a teacher at Chittagong University till his death.

"Professor Hyder is one of the most significant figures in our theatre movement. He was a teacher, director, and a writer. We are proud to call him a 'son of Pabna'," said Pradip Sanyal Gopal, president of Pabna Drama Circle.

President of Shammilito Shangkritik Jote, Pabna, Abdul Matin Khan; president of Pabna Press Club, Rumi Khandokar; freedom fighter Baby Islam and members of different cultural organisations recalled Hyder on his first death anniversary. The cultural activists stressed the need for generating interest in Professor Hyder's life and works among the youngsters.

Madonna wrapping up world tour in Israel

AP, Tel Aviv

Madonna brought her mix of provocative music and spirituality to the Holy Land with a concert last Tuesday in front of 50,000 fans who had endured a 16-year wait since the pop icon's last gig in Israel.

Madonna is wrapping up her worldwide "Sticky & Sweet" tour with two concerts this week in a country whose place at the heart of the Mideast conflict has made it more of a magnet for diplomats than big-name performers.

Madonna took the stage about a half hour late Tuesday night, opening with her 2008 single, "Candy Shop" and moving through a tightly choreographed performance that included a series of colourful costumes -- beginning with a skimpy, black body suit with fishnet stockings and knee-high boots -- and range of hits, new and old.

Madonna performs during her concert in Tel Aviv, Israel, on September 1, 2009.

"I shouldn't have stayed so long away," she told the adoring crowd midway through the show.

The 51-year-old entertainer has long claimed a special bond with the Jewish state.

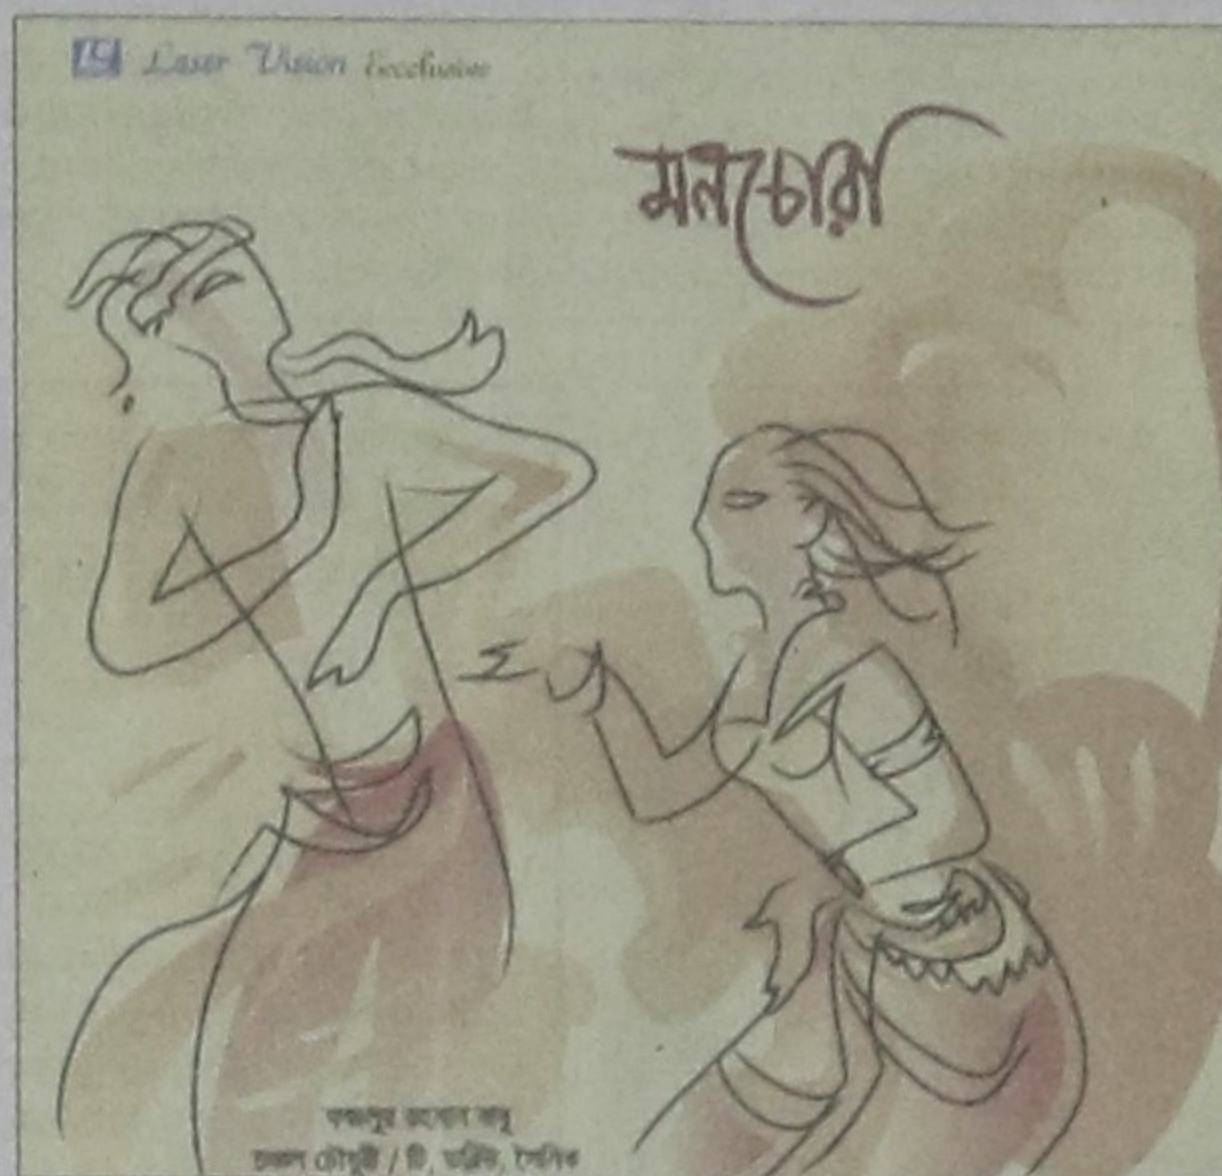

She's been dabbling in Kabbalah, a form of Jewish mysticism, for more than a decade and has taken on a Hebrew name, Esther. She's come on private pilgrimages in recent years. She has visited the Jewish holy site at the Western Wall in Jerusalem since arriving in Israel on Sunday.

Late Monday, the pop diva dined with Israel's moderate parliamentary opposition leader, Tzipi Livni, at Madonna's request, Livni spokesman Gil Messing said.

Madonna last performed in Israel in 1993 but came on private pilgrimages in 2004 and 2007 along with other Kabbalah devotees.

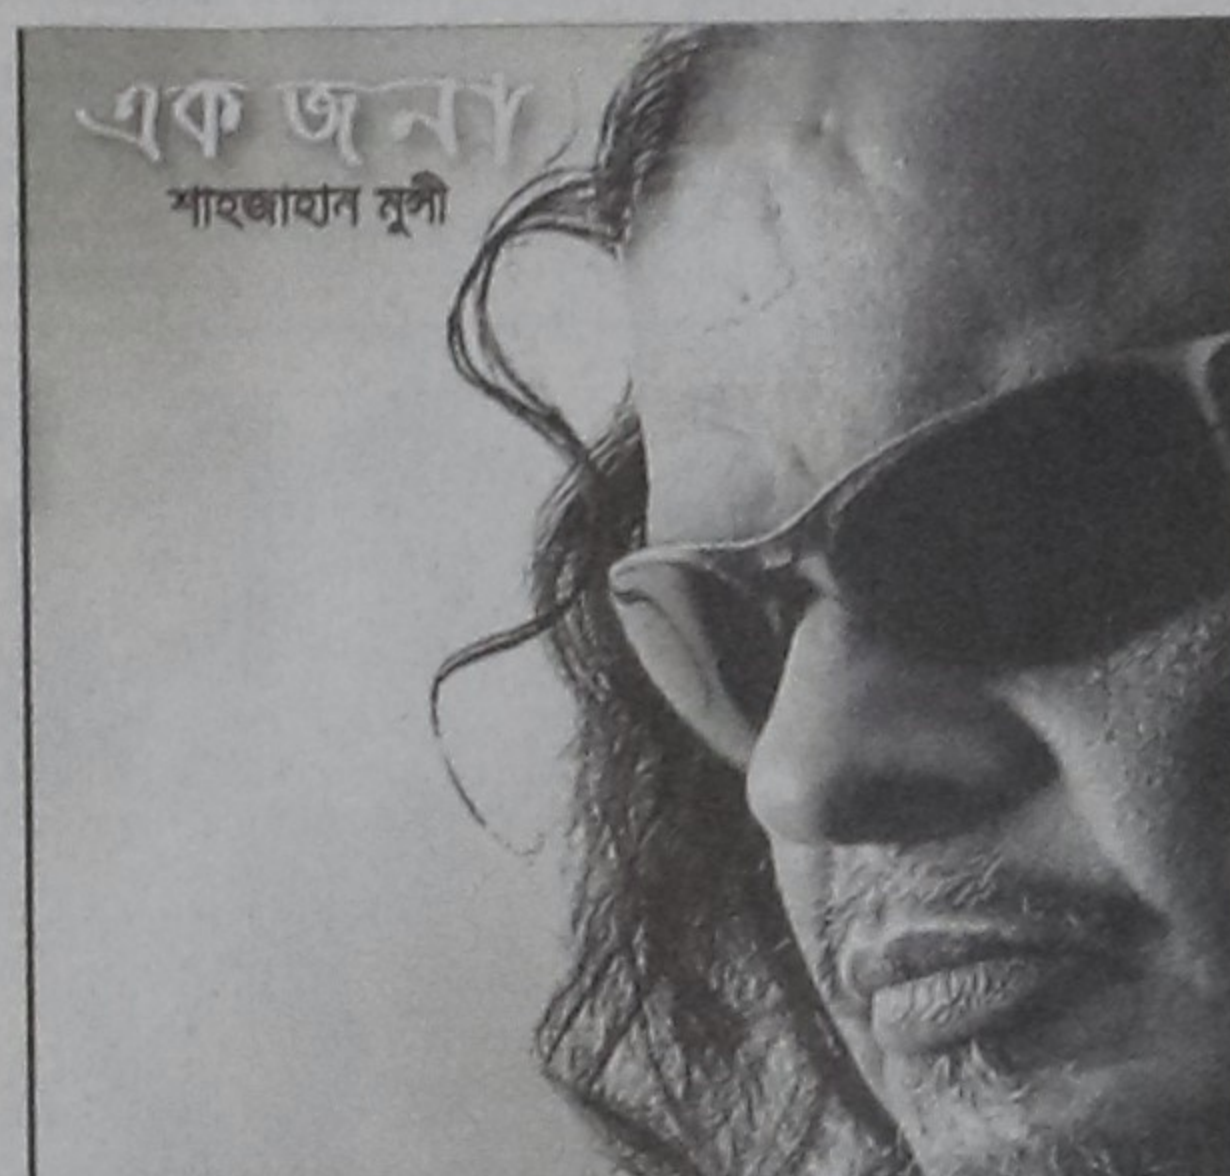

Her previous two stops on the current tour, in Romania and Bulgaria, were marred by controversy.
